

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

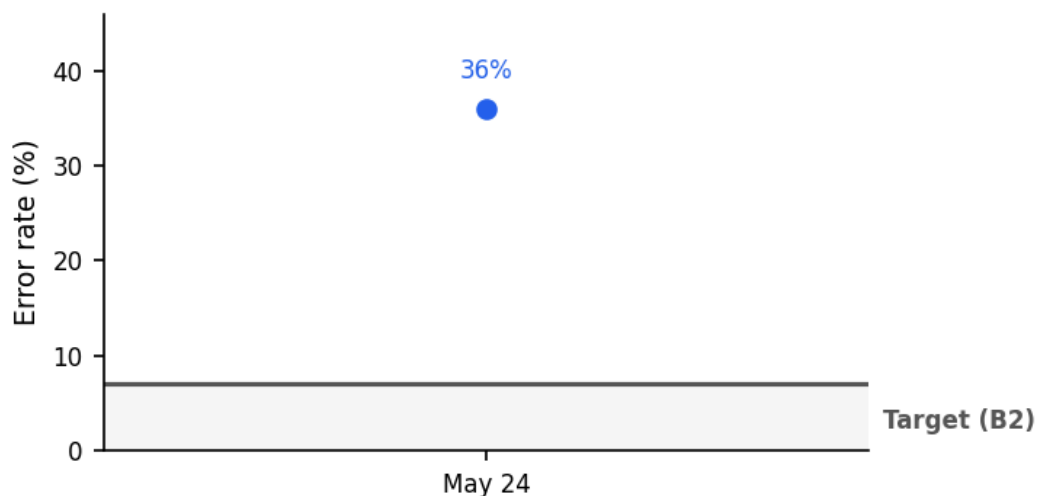

Mathew - 29561 - M3-4A

Dear Mathew,

Mathew, you have a wonderful passion for drawing, and I can really see that in your writing. It's great that you explained why you like drawing and even described how you can draw realistic faces and animals. Your love for art and comics really comes through clearly. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Article usage: Use 'a', 'an', or 'the' before singular countable nouns when needed. You wrote "What i like about my self is Drawing" but it should be "What I like about myself is drawing."
- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb, and a plural subject needs a plural verb. You wrote "it make me feel proud" but it should be "it makes me feel proud."
- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout your sentence or paragraph. You wrote "I loss in a tourna ment of drawing" but it should be "I lost in a tournament of drawing."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like about myself is drawing, because I studied it when I was 5 years old, and it makes me feel proud of myself. And why did I like it most? Because I can draw a full person's face most likely, and I can draw any animal as if it were really realistic, but the most realistic are tigers and cats. But somehow my parents weren't proud of it, even though I can draw my parents' faces. Maybe it is because I lost in a tournament of drawing. Another thing that I like most about me is making adult comics, and if I use my drawing skill with a comic story, I can make a full one while I was bored.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What i like about my self is Drawing Because I was studied when I was 5 years old and it make me feel proud of myself and why did i like it most? because I can draw a full people face most likely and I can draw any animal like it was really realists but the most realists is tiger and a cat but somehow my parents didn't proud âit Bven I can draw my parent faces maybe it because I loss in a tourna ment of drawing and another one that I like most about me is making a adult comic and if I use my drawing skill with comic story I can make a full while I was bored

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

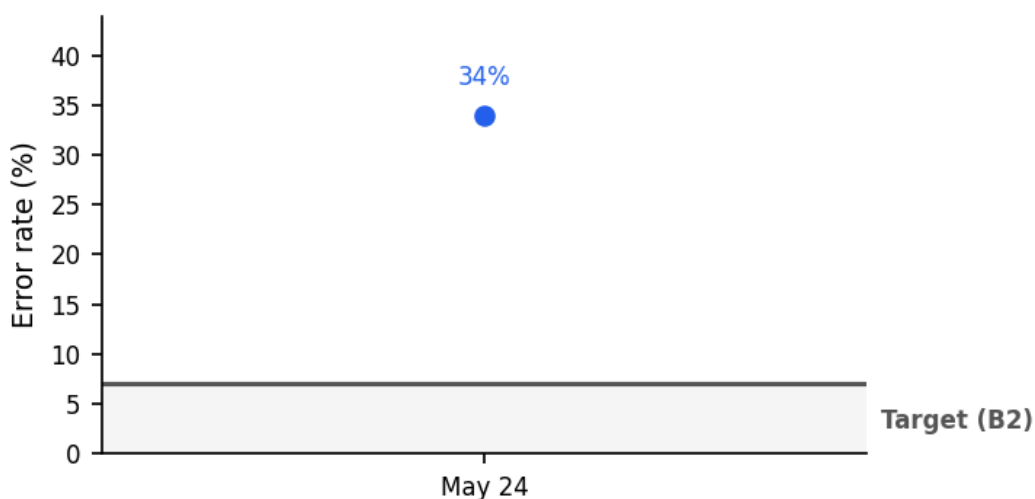

Elle - 29589 - M3-4A

Dear Elle,

I love how you shared such a personal story about taking care of your cousin. It's wonderful that you help your family and even take her to fun places like the harbor. You have a kind heart, and it comes through clearly in your writing. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb form after 'love': After 'love', use the -ing form of the verb. You wrote "The thing that i love about me is take caring of my cousin" but it should be "The thing that I love about me is taking care of my cousin."
- Past tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the past tense when telling a story about the past. You wrote "So I decide to take cave of her by my self" but it should be "So I decided to take care of her by myself."
- Spelling and word choice: Check your spelling and use the correct word for what you mean. You wrote "Lost month, I'd take her to har berland" but it should be "Last month, I took her to the harbor."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

The thing that I love about me is taking care of my cousin, because my parents did not have much time. So I decided to take care of her by myself. Last month, I took her to the harbor, and she seemed to like it. She really enjoys playing volleyball, for example. I asked her to play doctor volleyball.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

The thing that i love about me is take caring of my cousin, because my parents were not have much of. time. So I decide to take cave of her by my self. Lost month, I'd take her to har berland, she seems like it. She's very enjoy playing vole, for example. I asked her to play doctor vole,

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

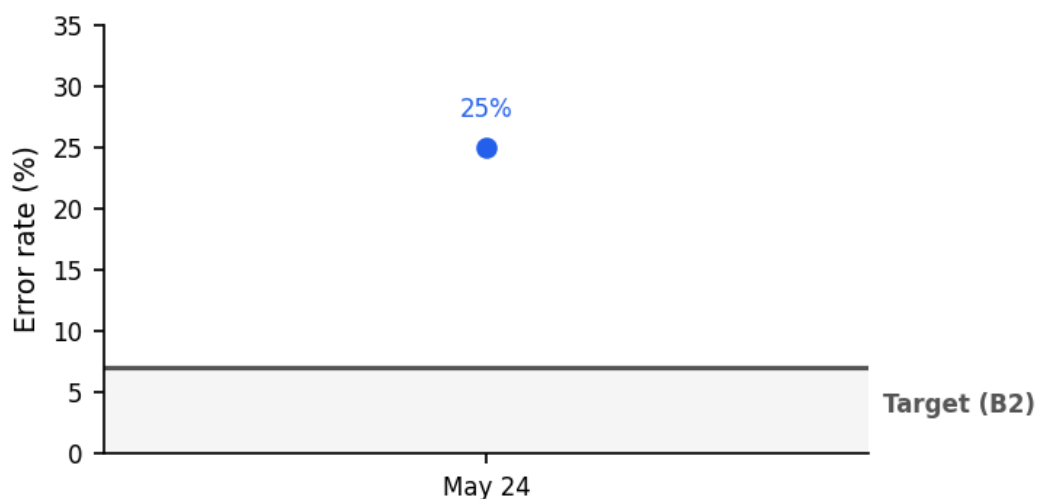

Praewwan - 29599 - M3-4A

Dear Praewwan,

I love how you described yourself as someone who sees sunshine and rainbows even in serious situations—that's such a vivid and positive way to show your personality. The story about Valorant made me smile; it's clear you have a great sense of humor and know how to stay cool under pressure. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Spelling errors: Check your spelling carefully to make sure words are written correctly. You wrote "rainbons" but it should be "rainbows."
- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout your story. You wrote "laughe" but it should be "laughed."
- Article and preposition usage: Use the correct prepositions and articles to make your sentences clear. You wrote "someone in the team crashos out because of my aim is the worst" but it should be "someone on the team crashed out because my aim is the worst."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me is being funny. When I'm around my friends, I always act like I only see sunshine and rainbows. That's funny because even in an extremely serious situation, I can't take it seriously no matter what. Last week when I was playing Valorant with my friends, someone on the team crashed out because my aim is the worst. I didn't get mad at all; I just laughed, and that rage-baited him so bad.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like most about me is being funny When I'm around my friends I alway act like I only see sunshine and rainbons that's funny because even it's a extremely serious situation I can't take seriously no matter what Last week when I was playing Valorant with my friends. someone in the team crashos out because of my aim is the worst I didn't get mad at all I just laughe and that rage bait him so bad.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

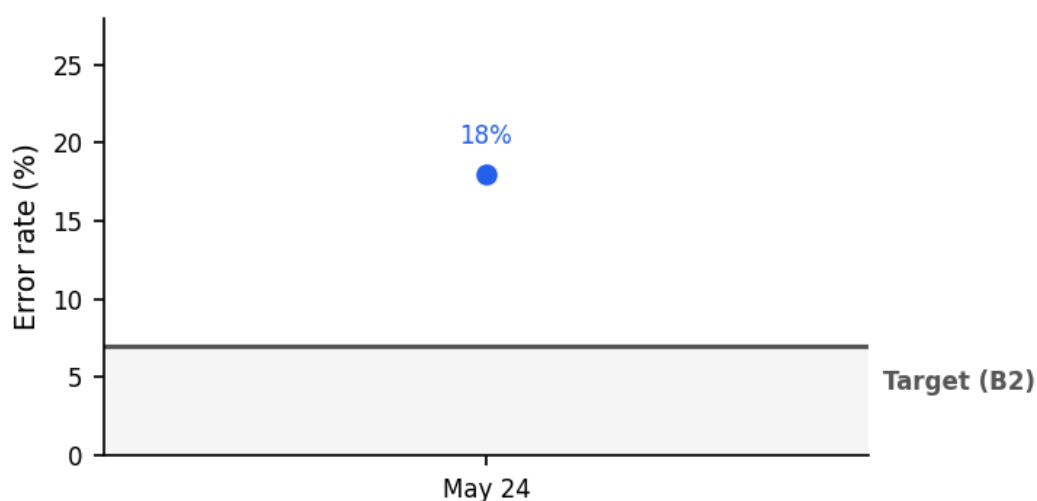

Yayar - 29604 - M3-4A

Dear Yayar,

I really enjoyed reading about how you connect with people in online games. It's great that you're thoughtful about making others feel included. Your story about meeting two new friends shows you have a kind and social personality. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout a paragraph. You wrote "I loved my uniqueness" but it should be "I love my uniqueness."
- Spelling errors: Check the spelling of common words like 'people' and 'month'. You wrote "peopl" but it should be "people."
- Noun-verb agreement (singular/plural): Use a singular noun after 'last' when referring to one time period. You wrote "last months" but it should be "last month."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

“What do you like most about you?” is the question that many people ask to get to know you better. When people ask me that, I always answer in different ways, but now I think I know what I like most. Just so you know, I love my uniqueness. But what I love most about me is how I get along with people. I get along with lots of people because I know how to talk to people without making them feel left out. For example, last month I met two new friends from an online game. I would throw some jokes to make them laugh and be the funniest one in the trio. Now we get along pretty well.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

“What you like most about you?” Is the questions that many people ask to know you better. When people ask me that I always answer in different types of answer but now I think I know what I like most. Just for you to know I loved my uniqueness. But what I loved most about me is how I get along with people. I get along with lots of people because I know how to talk to peopl without making felt left out. For example, last months I met two nows friends from online game. I would throw somes jokes to make them laugh and being the funniest one in the trio. Now we get along pretty well.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

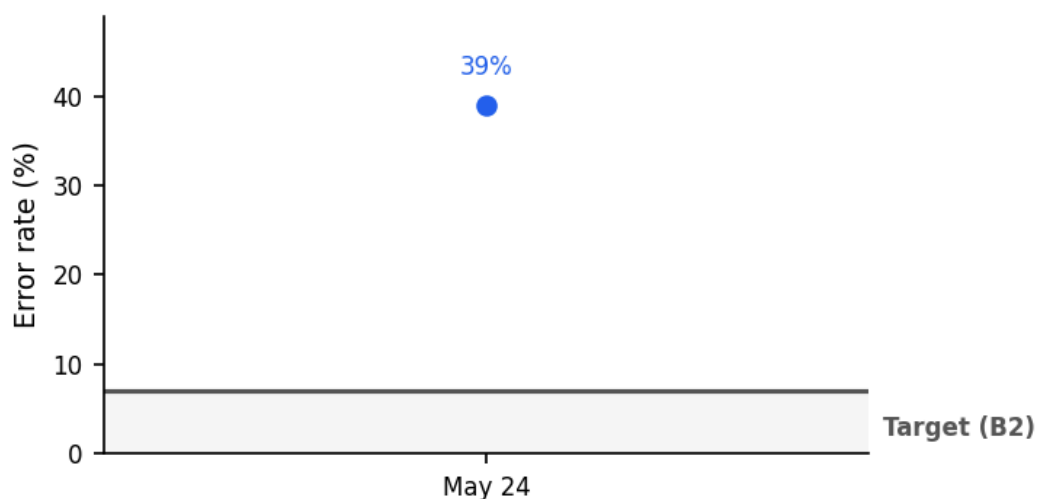

Siri - 29623 - M3-4A

Dear Siri,

You wrote about a really interesting ability—reading people’s feelings just by looking at their faces and actions. That’s a special skill that shows you’re thoughtful and observant. I especially liked how you explained that you use this to help people you care about. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb form after prepositions: After prepositions like ‘at’, use the -ing form of the verb. You wrote “I good at understand people” but it should be “I am good at understanding people.”
- Article usage: Use ‘a’ or ‘an’ before singular countable nouns when they are not specific. You wrote “in a feel second” but it should be “in a few seconds.”
- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote “I love and helps people” but it should be “I love and help people.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

The thing I love most about myself–this question makes me feel a bit confused. I don't really ask or think about what I am usually good or bad at. In my mind, I am good at understanding people just by talking to them and looking at their faces; I know what they are thinking or feeling in a few seconds. However, I help and am friends with a lot of people, but not everyone. I can know whether they are telling the truth or lying just by looking at their face and actions. In In conclusion, I love and help people that I love and respect. I can know who I am talking to by looking at their face, actions, and

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

The most thing I love about myself, this question make me feel a bit confuse. I don't really ask or think about what I usally good or bad. In my mind, I good at understand people just talk and look at them face, I know what they thinking or feeling in a feel second. However, I help and be friends with a lot of people but not everyone. I can know they talk the true or lie with just look they face and action. Conclusion, I love and helps people that I love and respect. I can know who I talking to by look at they face, action and

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

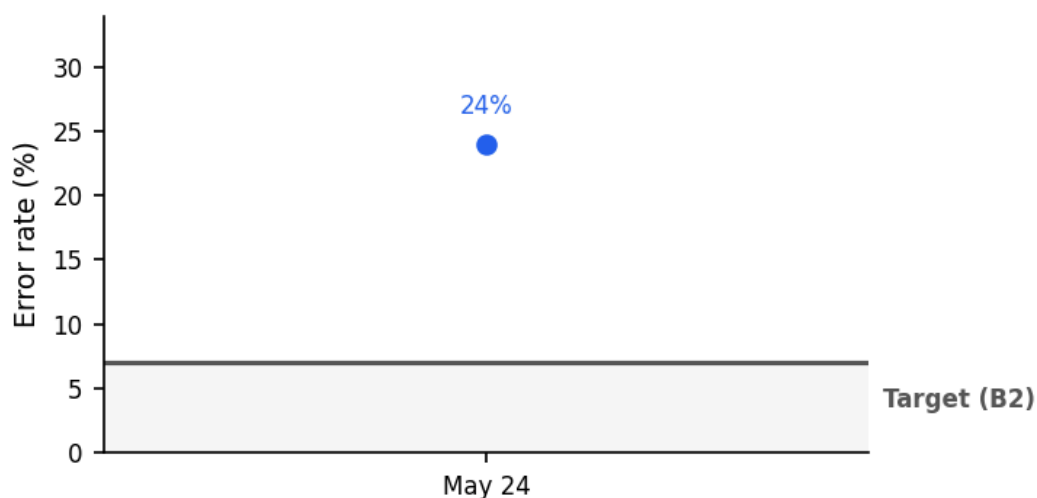

Dragon - 29720 - M3-4A

Dear Dragon,

I really like how you describe your curiosity—it's clear that you're a thoughtful person who wants to understand things deeply. The image of something getting stuck in your head all night shows how much you care about learning. It's wonderful that you connect this to real examples like homework and games. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote "What I liked the most about me are curious" but it should be "What I liked the most about me is my curiosity."
- Word form and word choice: Use the correct form of a word to match its role in the sentence. You wrote "I don't understand not at something ar master something" but it should be "I don't understand something or master something."
- Verb tense and form: Use the correct verb form to match the subject and tense. You wrote "I feels like I can't keep up" but it should be "I feel like I can't keep up."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I liked the most about me is my curiosity, because when I don't understand something or master something, I always want to learn and try to understand. If I can't know something, it just gets stuck in my head all day, which keeps me awake at night. The good thing is I get to learn and discover many things I don't know, for example, homework and games. When I don't know how to do some equations, I feel like I can't keep up and feel left out.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I liked the most about me are curious, Because when I don't understand not at something ar master something I always want to learn and try to understand because If I can't know something It just gonna stuck in my head all day which makes me always awake at night. The good thing is Iget to learn and discover many things I don't know, Example like homework and games because when I don't know how to do some equations, I feels like I can't keep up and feel left out.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

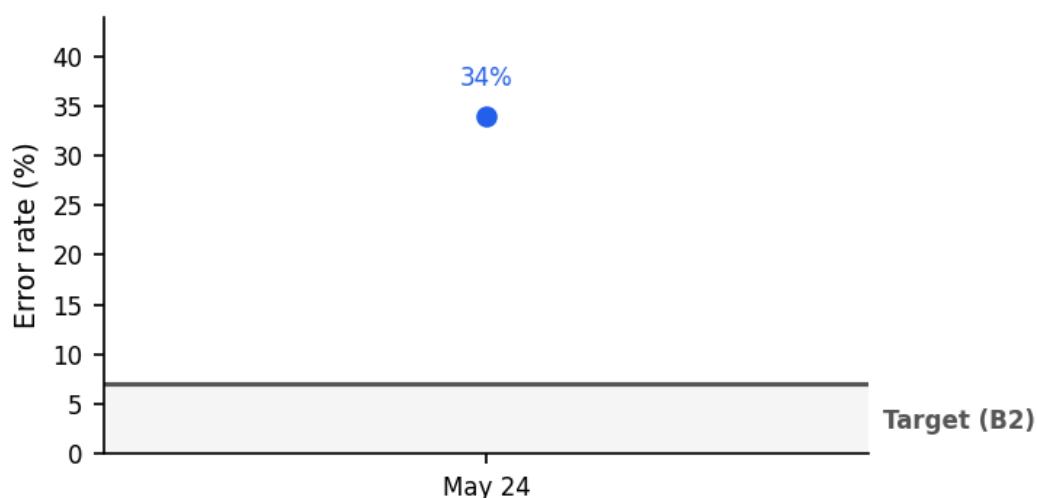

Nene - 29832 - M3-4A

Dear Nene,

I really like how you wrote about loving yourself and encouraging your past self. It's wonderful that you shared such a personal and positive message. Your idea to hug your past self is very touching and shows a lot of kindness. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout. You wrote "who allways scaer of" but it should be "who was always scared."
- Article usage: Use 'a' or 'the' before nouns when needed. You wrote "the stronger person then before" but it should be "a stronger person than before."
- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote "I'm become" but it should be "I have become."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

I like how I am. I like how I have become a stronger person than before, who was always scared. I want to tell my past self and hug her, and tell her to love yourself even more. And those who hate yourself need to love yourself even more. And you will become happier.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

I like how myself be like. I like how I'm become the stronger person then before, who allways scaer of. I want to tell my past self and hug her, And tell her that love yourself evenmore. And dose who hate yourself, need to love yoursele even more. And you will get happier.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Mathayom Program

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

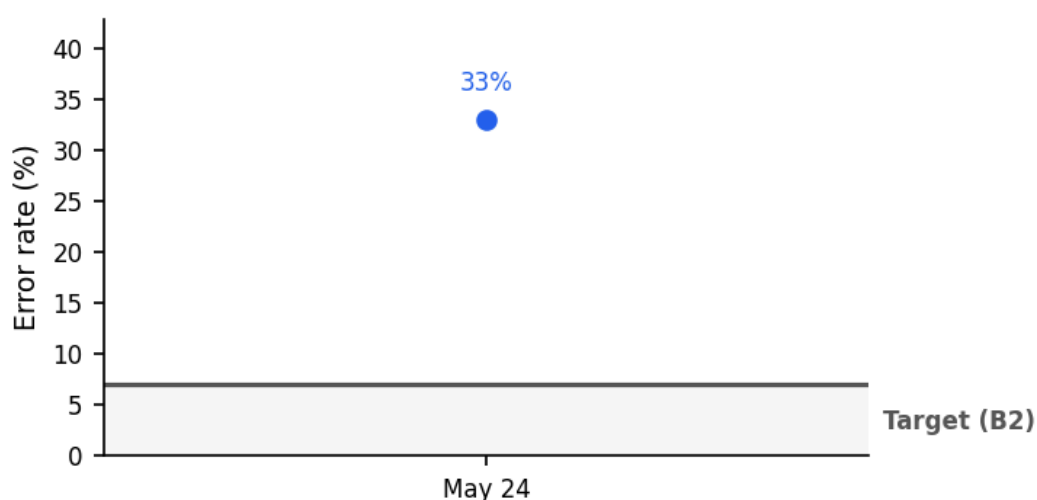

Tonnam - 31416 - M3-4A

Dear Tonnam,

I really like how you described yourself as friendly and good at talking to people. It's wonderful that you're curious about learning new things like vocabulary. Your writing shows you have a positive attitude about growing and improving. To make your writing even stronger, let's look at a few areas you can work on.

- Adverb usage: Use 'easily' instead of 'easy' to describe how you do something. You wrote "can talk to other people easy" but it should be "can talk to other people easily."
- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote "I often discovering" but it should be "I am often discovering."
- Spelling: Spell words correctly for clear communication. You wrote "vocab" but it should be "vocabulary."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me: For me, I think I'm friendly and can talk to other people easily. I listen to others and give advice on how to get past it. When I do something, I will do it hard. I am often discovering things that I don't know, like vocabulary. Looking at

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

what I like most about me For me I think I'm friendly and can talk to other people easy. Listen to other and give the way how to past it. when I do something I will do it harder. I often discovering the things that I don't Know like vocab. Looking at

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Mathayom Program

 CAMBRIDGE
English Educational
Partner

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

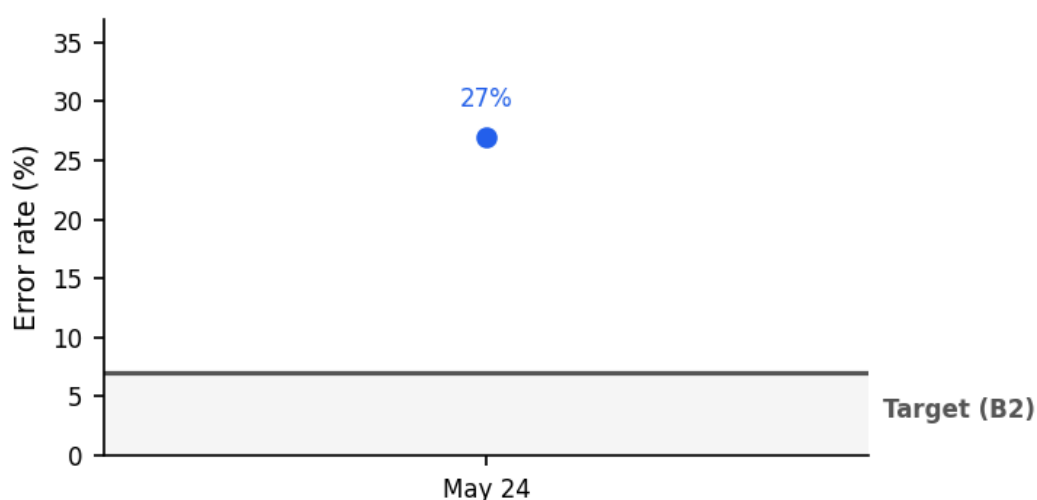

Kati - 33896 - M3-4A

Dear Kati,

I love how you shared the story of your friends inviting you to dance at a school event. It's wonderful that you tried something new and had fun with your friends. Your writing shows that you are proud of your talents, which is great. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Missing article before nouns: Use 'a' or 'the' before singular countable nouns. You wrote "talented" but it should be "my talent."
- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout a sentence. You wrote "I heard everyone said to me" but it should be "I have heard everyone say to me."
- Adjective vs. noun form: Use an adjective to describe a noun, or a noun to name a thing. You wrote "enjoyed activity" but it should be "enjoyable activity."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about myself is my talent. I have heard everyone say to me that I was very talented and that I can do many things that other people cannot do. In the past, I did not know how to dance; suddenly, my friends invited me to perform at a school event, and I danced with them. It was a very enjoyable activity.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like most about myself is talented. I heard everyone said to me that I was very talented and I can do many things that others people can't do. In the past, I didn't know how to dance, suddenly, my friends invited me to show at the school event and I danced with them. It was very enjoyed activity.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

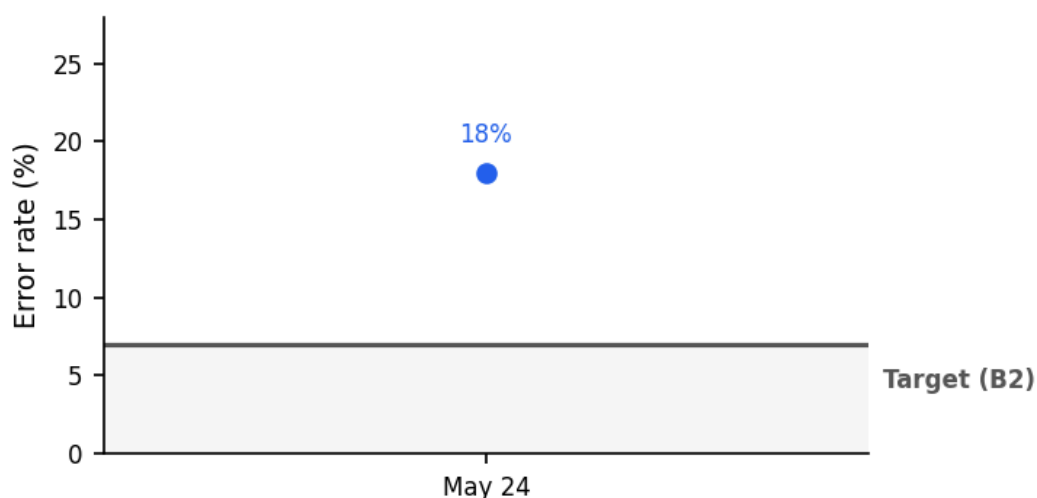

Hero - 34912 - M3-4A

Dear Hero,

I really like how you wrote about your concentration and patience. It's impressive that you can finish three days of homework in just one day. Your example about following a weekly schedule shows you are very disciplined. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Spelling errors: Check your spelling carefully, especially for common words. You wrote "usual; stay alert and Pocus" but it should be "usually stay alert and focus."
- Verb form: Use the base form of the verb after 'can'. You wrote "I'm able to follows" but it should be "I am able to follow."
- Word choice: Use the correct word for your meaning. You wrote "my ma'n home work" but it should be "my main homework."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me is my concentration, since I usually stay alert and focus on my daily tasks. For example, I can do my main homework that would take at least 3 days to finish in only a day because of my concentration and patience. In addition, I am able to follow my weekly schedule that contains boring tasks like doing chores and studying math for 2 weeks now, which aids me in being more productive.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like most about me is concentration since I usual; stay alert and Pocus on my daily taskse. For example, I can do my ma'n home work that would take at least 3 days to finish in only a day because of my concentration and patience. In addition, I'm able to follows my weekly si vedle that contains boring casks like doing chores and studying math for 2 weeks now, which aids me to be more productive.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

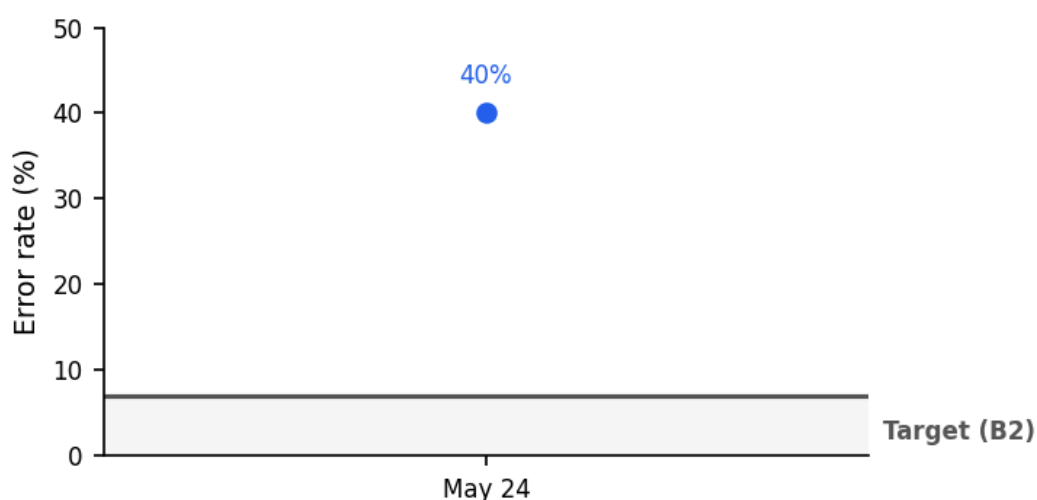

Ping-Ping - 34924 - M3-4A

Dear Ping-Ping,

Your writing shows that you really care about your artwork. I love how you described the time and energy it takes to make a picture perfect - that's a very thoughtful observation. It's wonderful that you feel proud when you look at your own drawing. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb form with 'like': After 'like', use the -ing form of the verb (gerund). You wrote "I like when I drawing" but it should be "I like drawing."
- Subject-verb agreement: The subject and verb must agree in number. You wrote "drawing it have" but it should be "drawing takes."
- Missing preposition: Use 'at' after 'look' when referring to looking at something. You wrote "When I look my picture" but it should be "When I look at my picture."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like about myself. I like drawing because I think drawing takes time to make our picture perfect. Drawing uses a lot of energy for one picture; it took ten hours for each one. When I look at my picture, I love it very much when I draw.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like about myself. I like when I drawing because I think drawing it have to take the time that make our picture perfect. Prawing it have to use energy much for 1 picture it took 10 hour for each. When I look my picture I very love it when I drawing.

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

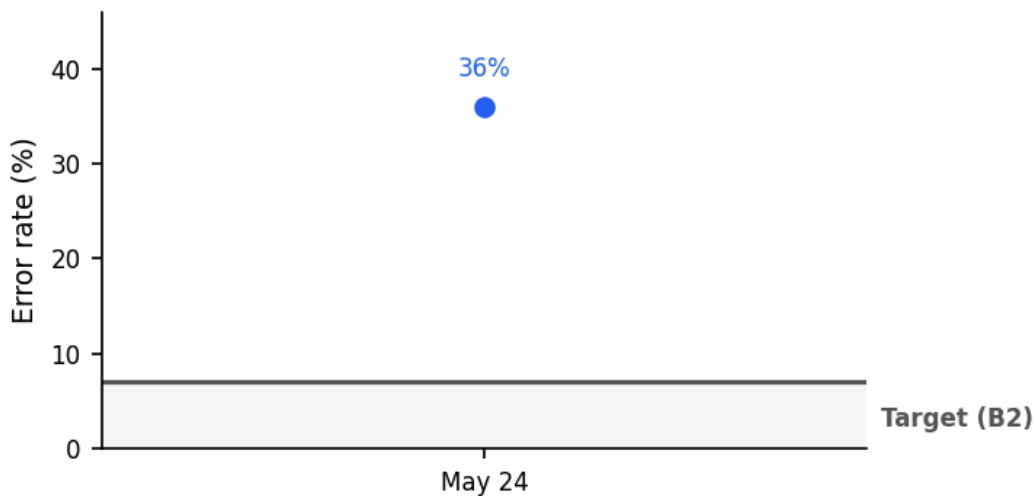

Chopin - 34926 - M3-4A

Dear Chopin,

I really like how you answered the question honestly and gave two specific things you like about yourself: your gaming skills and your hair. It's wonderful that you can be proud of what makes you unique, like being good at first-person shooting games. You also clearly explained why you appreciate your straight hair, which shows good self-awareness. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Missing words: Make sure to include all necessary words to complete your meaning. You wrote "There are many I like about me" but it should be "There are many things I like about me."
- Verb form: Use the correct form of the verb after 'being' or 'am'. You wrote "I always being good of every game I play" but it should be "I am always good at every game I play."
- Spelling: Check the spelling of common words like 'especially'. You wrote "espacially First person shooting games" but it should be "especially first-person shooting games."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me? There are many things I like about me, but if I really have to choose, it will be my skill at playing games. For example, I am always good at every game I play, especially first-person shooting games such as Valorant or Counter-Strike. In second place, I would choose my hair because I don't like curly hair, but luckily I have straight hair.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

what I like most about me? There are many I like about me, but if I really have to choose it will be my skills of playing game. For example I always being good of every game I play espacially First person shooting games such as, valorant.or counter strike. In the second place I'll choose my hair because. I don't like curly hair, but luckily I have a straight hair,

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

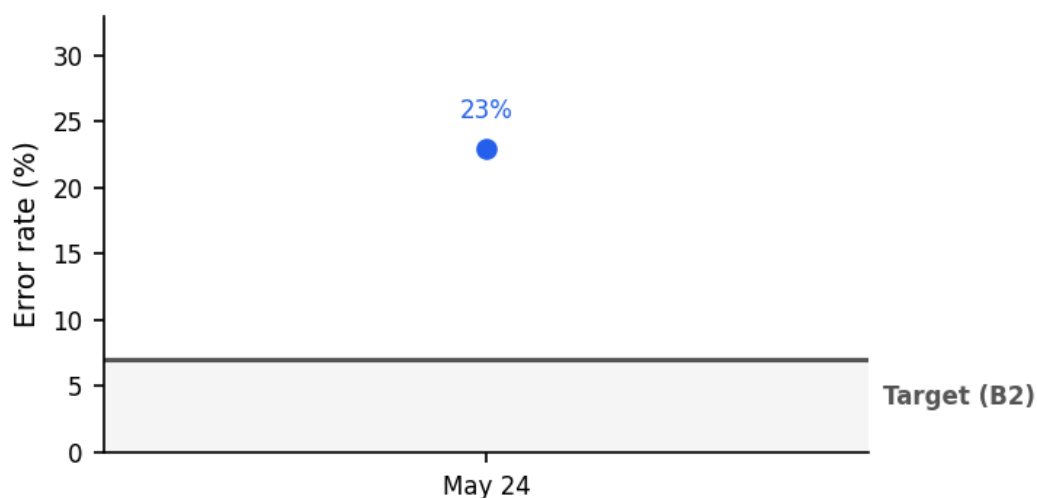

Frame - 34931 - M3-4A

Dear Frame,

You shared some really meaningful things about yourself—like making your parents proud and achieving good grades. It's wonderful that you're proud of yourself for reaching those goals. Your writing shows you're thoughtful and self-aware. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Article usage: Use 'a' or 'the' before singular countable nouns. You wrote "achieving a good grades" but it should be "achieving good grades."
- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout. You wrote "I could be great at playing game" but it should be "I could be great at playing games."
- Sentence completeness: Make sure every sentence has a main verb and expresses a complete thought. You wrote "all of these things don't really fill inside that what I like the most" but it should be "all of these things don't really fill the inside of what I like the most."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me. The things I like most about myself are making my parents proud of me, achieving good grades, and making myself proud. I am really proud of myself that I can achieve these things I mentioned. I could be great at playing games, playing guitar, or maybe playing sports. But, all of these things don't really fill the inside of what I like the most.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like most about me The most things I like about myself are making my parents proud of me, achieving a good grades, and making me proud of myself. I'm really proud of myself that I can achieve these things I said. I could be great at playing game, playing guitar or maybe playing sports. But, all of these things don't really fill inside that what I like the most

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

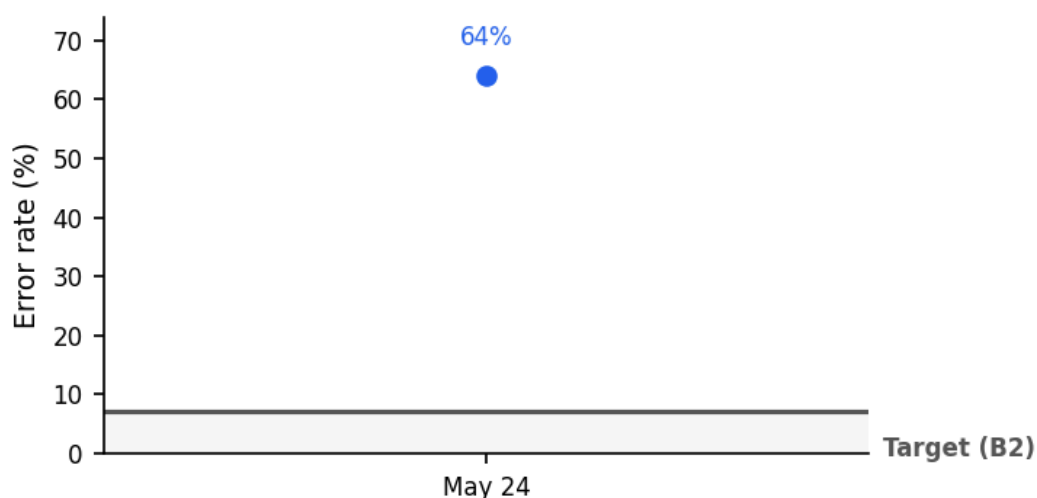

Richter - 34936 - M3-4A

Dear Richter,

It's wonderful that you shared what you like about yourself. I can see you are proud of your drawing skills and being your own person. That's really nice to read. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Negation structure: Use 'not' after the verb to make a negative sentence. You wrote "What I like not about me" but it should be "What I like about me is."
- Spelling: Check the spelling of words you are unsure about. You wrote "unsather Einhig" but it should be "that I am an artist."
- Word form: Use the correct form of the word based on its role in the sentence. You wrote "cartooner ainma" but it should be "cartoon animals."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like about me is that I am an artist, and I can draw some cartoon animals and being myself. That I like most about me.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

What I like not about me. Is unsather Einhig and I can draw some cartooner ainma and being my ster, That Ilkie most about me

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

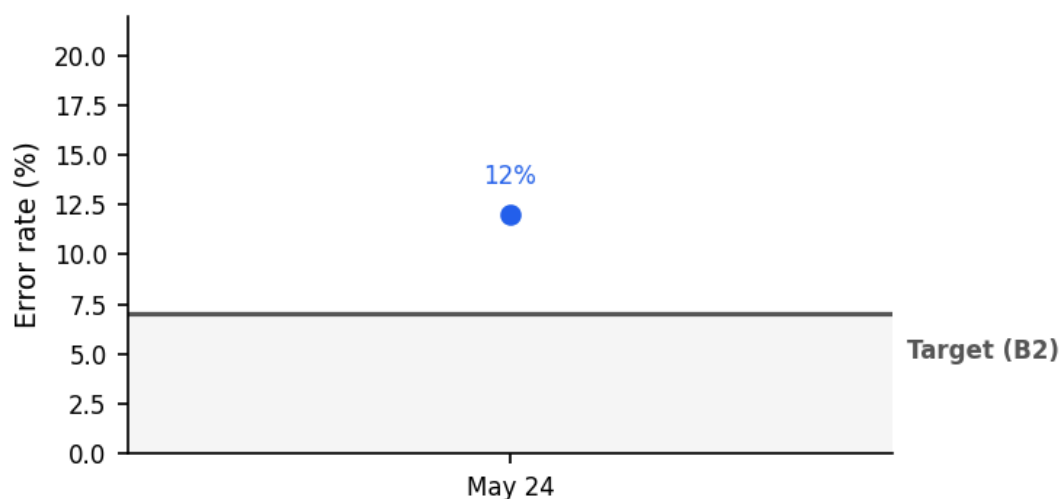

Atom - 35309 - M3-4A

Dear Atom,

I really enjoyed reading about your discipline and mindset. It's impressive that you work out consistently and think positively about yourself and others. The way you take care of yourself and others, and even have a pet spider, shows you have a strong and unique personality. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote "When it come to mindset" but it should be "When it comes to mindset."
- Preposition usage: Use the correct preposition after verbs like 'take care' and 'scared'. You wrote "I take care others" but it should be "I take care of others."
- Verb tense consistency: Use the correct verb form with auxiliary verbs like 'doesn't'. You wrote "social anxiety doesn't exists" but it should be "social anxiety doesn't exist."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

“What I like most about me” is an excellent question for me to think about. I’d say discipline and mindset. I’ve been working out consistently, and I’ve seen massive overall health improvement and appearance. When it comes to mindset, I tend to think positively about myself and others. I love to get better at everything. I take care of others and myself, and I never let any distraction get in my way. Lastly, I love how social anxiety doesn’t exist in my world; I can talk, communicate, and socialize with others with ease. One more thing: I’m not scared of insects. I love them; I even have a pet spider at home!

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

“What I like most about me” is an excellent question for me to think about. I’d say discipline and mindset. I’ve been working out consistently and I’ve seen massive overall health improvement and look. When it come to mindset, I tend to think positively to myself and others. I love to get better at everything. I take care others and myself, never let any distraction get in my way. Lastly I love how social anxiety doesn’t exists in my world, I can talk, communicate and socialize with others with ease. One more thing I’m not scared insects. I love them, I even have a pet spider at home!

May 24, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

