Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

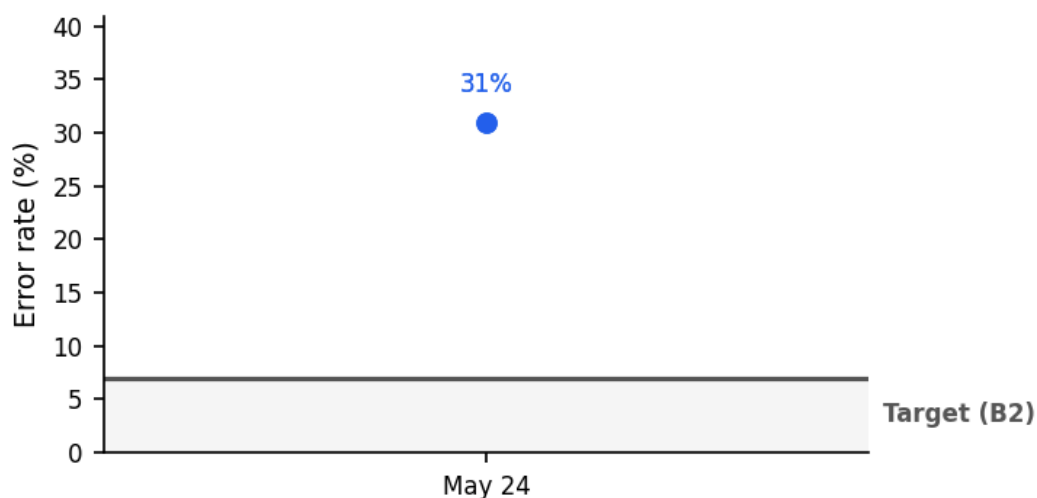

Satang - 29508 - M3-5A

Dear Satang,

I really like how you shared that you are passionate about the topics you care about, like music and your education path. It shows that you have a curious and motivated personality, which is a great quality. Your friends noticing your curiosity is also a wonderful compliment to include. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Missing verb: Always include the verb 'to be' (am, is, are) before adjectives like 'passionate'. You wrote "I think that I really passionate about the toplo I'm interested in" but it should be "I think that I am really passionate about the topics I am interested in."
- Punctuation and plural form: Use a colon after 'examples' and make sure nouns are plural when needed. You wrote "For examples music, academic performance and education path" but it should be "For example, music, academic performance, and my education path."
- Word choice and fragments: Use the correct word to complete a thought, like 'more about' instead of 'move'. You wrote "questioning everythings I want to know move" but it should be "questioning everything I want to know more about."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Dear Dee,

Dee, I really enjoyed reading about your life in Thailand and your love for music and games. It's wonderful that you're using Chat GPT to help you learn coding for your own project. That shows great initiative and creativity. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Sentence structure and punctuation: Use a period or a comma after introductory phrases like 'Hello, my name is...' You wrote "Hello my name is Dee, I live in Thailand with my mom and my dad, I love to listen to music because it can make me relax" but it should be "Hello, my name is Dee. I live in Thailand with my mom and my dad. I love to listen to music because it can make me relax."
- Verb tense and form: Use 'always + -ing' or 'am always + -ing' for ongoing actions. You wrote "I always learning to make a game with chat opt" but it should be "I am always learning to make a game with Chat GPT."
- Spelling and word choice: Use 'free time' not 'freetime', and 'code' not 'coading'. You wrote "In my freetime I love to play a computer games with my friend and my brother" but it should be "In my free time, I love to play computer games with my friend and my brother."

Dear Yaya (Nadi),

You wrote a very clear and positive description of yourself. I really liked how you gave a specific example about going to England and making friends quickly. It shows you are thoughtful and good at explaining your ideas. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Fixed phrase: Use 'are as follows' instead of 'are as follow'. You wrote "Things I really like about me are as follow" but it should be "Things I really like about me are as follows."
- Sentence structure: Connect two complete sentences with a conjunction like 'and' or use a period. You wrote "There was one time I went to England for school's summer camp, it only took me a day to get close with every members" but it should be "There was one time I went to England for school's summer camp, and it only took me a day to get close with every member."
- Plural noun: Use the singular form 'member' after 'every'. You wrote "get close with every members" but it should be "get close with every member."

Punch - 29615 - M3-5A

Dear Punch,

I really like how you wrote about being a good friend to someone who was sad. It shows that you care about others and that you pay attention to how they feel. The way you connected that experience to feeling needed by others is thoughtful and honest. To make your writing even stronger, here are a few patterns to work on that I noticed in your work.

- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout a sentence or paragraph. You wrote "I'm the only one that listen" but it should be "I was the only one who listened."
- Subject-verb agreement: A singular subject needs a singular verb. You wrote "it make me feel" but it should be "it makes me feel."
- Missing verb: Use 'is' or 'are' after 'because' to connect a reason. You wrote "because it make me feel" but it should be "because it makes me feel."

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

What I like most about me? I think I like the way that many people said that I am a very good friend for them. For example, last week my friend was sad because of his family issue, and I was the only one who listened about his family issue. After that, I asked him about how he felt about me, and he said I am his best friend that he ever had. The reason why I like it is because it makes me feel like someone needs me too. The second reason is it makes me feel happier than before. For example, I felt bad about my own work, but then one of my friends said something like that.

Dear PingPing,

I love how dedicated you are to improving your singing. It's wonderful that you go to music competitions to get feedback and then use that feedback to work on your problems. Your commitment to practicing every day really shows your passion for music. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Capitalization: Always capitalize the first word of a sentence. You wrote "what I like the most about me is I am a good Singer" but it should be "What I like the most about me is that I am a good singer."
- Verb tense consistency: Use the same verb tense throughout your writing. You wrote "I'm trying to practice everyday" but it should be "I try to practice every day."
- Article usage: Use 'a', 'an', or 'the' when talking about a specific noun. You wrote "For the frist reason that I think I'm a good singer is I always practicing because I want to have a good technic" but it should be "The first reason that I think I am a good singer is that I am always practicing because I want to have good technique."

Dear Mark,

Nice writing about hello, mark, drawing, often and being. Keep practising and you will continue to improve! Here are some things to work on for your next piece of writing.

- Problems with nouns: Use the correct form of the noun (singular/plural/possessive). You wrote “guy” but it should be “guy.”
- Other errors: Check this part of your sentence for errors. You wrote “hobby for around 3-4 years now” but it should be “around three to four years now.”
- Problems with verb tense: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout. You wrote “now, I tried” but it should be “now. I try.”

Hello! I'm Mark. I really like drawing, and I am often called a nice guy. I think drawing has been my favorite hobby for around three to three to four years now. I try to be as polite as I can. I really enjoy drawing because I love the idea of drawing whatever character I want. I really like to draw characters from the game called Limbus Company, because they have really nice and cool characters. Maybe I like it because of their design and concept. I tried to draw a character named Ryoshu, because it seemed like the best idea. I usually draw when I get bored or in my free time, as well as trying my best to make my artwork look good. In conclusion, I really love drawing.

Dear Pheem,

Pheem, I really admire how you shared such a personal and thoughtful story about healing after emotional pain. Your example with your brother and the light shows you can describe real-life situations clearly, and I love that you reflected on how you grow stronger after difficult moments. It's wonderful that you're developing this self-awareness in your writing. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout your sentence or paragraph. You wrote "I'll learn from it and became stronger" but it should be "I learn from it and become stronger."
- Article usage: Use 'a' or 'the' before countable singular nouns when they are mentioned for the first time. You wrote "I was reading book in the living room" but it should be "I was reading a book in the living room."
- Verb form after modal or auxiliary: After 'doesn't need to', use the base form of the verb (not past tense). You wrote "he doesn't need to opened the big light" but it should be "he didn't need to turn on the big light."

What I like most about me is that I can heal my emotional damage by myself after I've just broken down. I am a sensitive person; whenever I get hurt mentally (even a little bit), I could cry. But after I cry, I learn from it and become stronger. For example, one afternoon, I was reading a book in the living room without turning on the light (since the sunlight outside was still bright). After a while, my brother came downstairs. As he saw me reading a book, he asked why I didn't turn on the light and turned on the light for me (a big one). I told him that he didn't need to turn on the big light just for me to read a book because the bills could be expensive. Then, he scolded me with his harsh tone, which I don't like.

It's clear you're a dedicated person who thinks ahead, and that's a great quality. Your story about trying sports when you were younger adds a nice personal touch. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Capitalization and punctuation: Start sentences with a capital letter and end them with proper punctuation like a period or question mark. You wrote "Hip My names pipe" but it should be "Hi, my name's Pipe."
- Word form and spelling: Use the correct word form and spelling, like 'a lot' instead of 'alot'. You wrote "When I was alot younger" but it should be "when I was a lot younger."

The topic I like most about myself is how determined I am. Not many people know this, but I am very determined about something when I do something. If I really like what I'm doing, then I will be very determined and focused. The reason I am determined is because if I like something and I have the capacity and the ability to do it, and if it is entertaining for me, I would love to do it at any time. For example, if a teacher gives me a task to do and it is boring and not entertaining for me, I would be bored and not determined to do it. I'm a hardworking person. When I have some homework or something that I have to do, with my ability or without, I think I can do it well, because I will set the time and get it done on time. For something that I don't know, I will try my best to search for information or details about it to keep my work going. Someday, when I have a lot of work, I usually get it done in only one day, because I think if we finish our homework, we will have a lot of free time to do other things or relax. If I have time left, I will read some Chinese or English books to remind myself that I still remember the language. In my opinion, a hardworking person will achieve their goals quickly, because 1. they will learn some new knowledge and can use it in the future, and 2. they will have discipline. Therefore, I conclude that that if we are hardworking people, we will have discipline and achieve our goals without fear.

I really like your idea about loyalty to the same dish – it's a fun and honest way to describe yourself. Your story shows a clear, relatable personality, and I can picture exactly what you mean. To build on this good work, here are a few small errors to fix next time.

- Adjective form: Use the adjective form 'loyal' instead of the noun 'loyalty' after 'how'. You wrote "how loyalty I am" but it should be "how loyal I am."
- Word order in questions: Use statement word order after 'when' – do not invert subject and verb. You wrote "when I don't know which food should I eat" but it should be "when I don't know which food I should eat."
- Subject-verb agreement: Use 'are' with the plural subject 'dishes'. You wrote "which is my favorite" but it should be "that are my favorite."

What I like most about me is how loyal I am, because when I don't know which food I should eat, I'll always choose the same dish. Maybe I'm just too lazy to pick food, even though there are many dishes that are my favorite. I'd still pick the same one that I ate before.

Singto - 34034 - M3-5A

Dear Singto,

I really like how you described yourself as a hardworking student. It's wonderful that you shared that story about studying so hard you fell asleep with the book in your hand. That shows a lot of dedication and pride in your schoolwork. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Capitalization of 'I': Always capitalize the pronoun 'I' when referring to yourself. You wrote "The thing that i like the most" but it should be "The thing that I like the most."
- Spelling: Check your spelling carefully, especially for common words. You wrote "stop" but it should be "stopping."
- Article usage: Use 'the' before a specific noun that refers to a particular thing. You wrote "After all that hard working paid off" but it should be "After all that hard work, it paid off."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

The thing that I like the most about myself is that I am a hardworking student. Because during exams, I won't play video games. Instead, I will be reading books the whole day without stopping. For For example, last Matthayom 2 final exam, I studied so hard that I fell asleep while the book was still in my hand as I was reading. After all that hard work, it paid off, because now I am a Matthayom 3 student. But I still have to keep doing better and better; even if I passed the exam, there are still some homework assignments that I did not do.

Dear Eri,

Nice writing about responsible, time, piano, guitar and violin. Keep practising and you will continue to improve! Here are some things to work on for your next piece of writing.

- Problems with nouns: Use the correct form of the noun (singular/plural/possessive). You wrote "time" but it should be "time."
- Capitalisation and spacing errors: Check your capitalisation and spacing carefully. You wrote "pratice everyday for one hour" but it should be "practice every day for one hour."
- Unnecessary noun: Pay attention to u:noun errors. You wrote "...so about 19:00 pm. to 20:00 pm" but it should be "."

What I like most about me is that I am very responsible about time, and I can play the piano, the guitar, and the violin, but I prefer to play the piano most. I practice every day for one hour. The reason that I prefer to play the piano is that it was the first instrument that I have ever played, and when I play it, it helps me relax. I mostly play my mom's favorite songs or my favorite songs. I usually start playing when the sun doesn't shine, so about 19:00 to 20:00. After I finish playing, I always clean the piano.

Dear Saint,

I really like how you described yourself as someone who doesn't give up easily. It's wonderful that you keep trying until you succeed. You also show great self-awareness by noticing your own mistakes quickly. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Subject-verb agreement: A plural subject needs a plural verb. You wrote "The things I like about myself is" but it should be "The things I like about myself are."
- Word form: Use an adverb to describe how an action is done. You wrote "notice my mistake very quick" but it should be "notice my mistake very quickly."
- Spelling: Check the spelling of common words. You wrote "may da it again" but it should be "may do it again."

Natee - 34932 - M3-5A

Dear Natee,

Natee, you did a great job sharing your feelings in this writing. I really liked how you described being sensitive and how it affects you when teachers are angry. It takes courage to write about these things, and you expressed them clearly. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors which I noticed in your work.

- Capitalization and spelling: Always capitalize the first word of a sentence and check your spelling carefully. You wrote "Helle, My name is Natee" but it should be "Hello, my name is Natee."
- Verb tense consistency: Keep your verbs in the same tense throughout your sentence. You wrote "I always cried when that problem happens" but it should be "I always cry when that problem happens."
- Spelling error: Be careful with common spelling mistakes, like 'wery' for 'very'. You wrote "I'm also wery sensitive" but it should be "I am also very sensitive."

Hello, my name is Natee, and today is Monday, the 18th of March, 2036. Today I will write about what I like most about me, so please enjoy my writing. The thing I like most about me is that I am a very dumb and introverted person because when I meet somebody, I just don't know how to be friends with them. Also, when teachers are angry or when they ask me to help them, I always forget how to do it. I am also very sensitive when teachers are shouting or angry with me because I always cry when that problem happens. I just wanted to study normally without any problems.
