

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

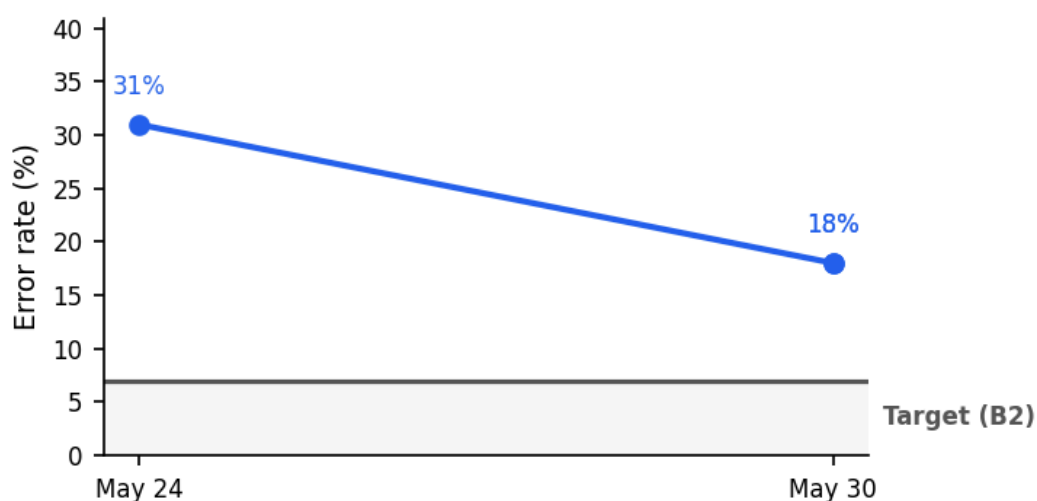

Satang - 29508 - M3-5A

Dear Satang,

I really like how you described each guitar as having a unique story. Giving your guitar the name 'Fonzo' is a wonderful personal touch that makes your writing feel special. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote "My most prized possession are my guitars." but the subject is 'possession' (singular), so the verb should be 'is' (singular). Correct it to: "My most prized possession is my guitars."
- Verb tense: You wrote "I am interested in music since I was a child." but 'since' shows a time from the past until now, so you need the present perfect tense. Change it to: "I have been interested in music since I was a child."
- Noun form: You wrote "one of the best gift" but 'one of' is followed by a plural noun because it means one item from a group. Change it to: "one of the best gifts."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my guitar. I have been interested in music since I was a child. Each of the guitars has a unique story.

My acoustic guitar is called Fonzo. It is one of the best gifts my dad bought for me. Fonzo is a high-end guitar, made by a famous guitar maker from Thailand. I play the percussive fingerstyle genre, so I have to hit the guitar. I think that's why I am bonded with Fonzo the most.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession are my guitars. I am interested in music since I was a child. Each of the guitars has a unique story.

My acoustic guitar is called Fonzo. It's one of the best gift my dad bought for me. Fonzo is a high-end guitar, the guitar is made from Thailand's famous guitar maker. I play percussive fingerstyles genre, so I have to hit the guitar. I think that's why I am bond with Fonzo the most.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

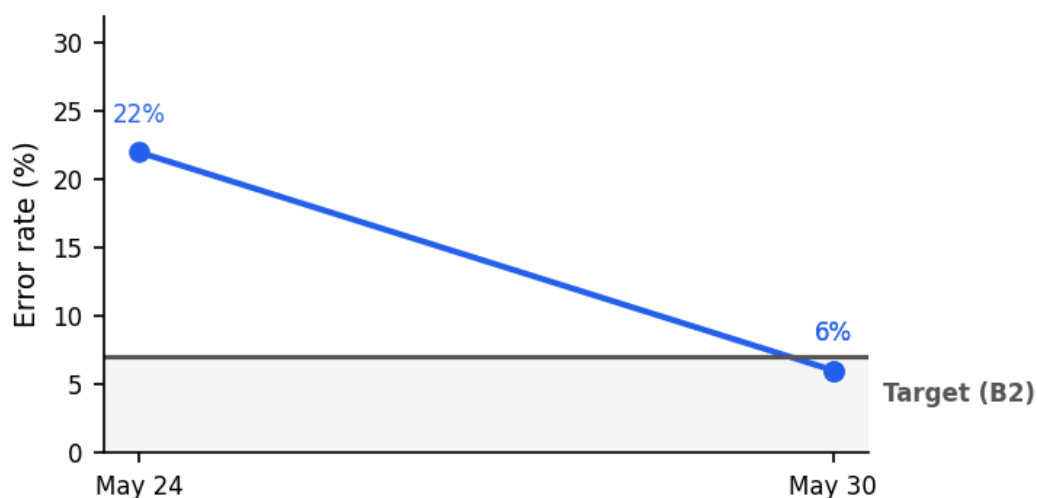

Dee - 29576 - M3-5A

Dear Dee,

I really like how you clearly stated that your computer helps you both learn and play. It shows you understand how to use a computer for different purposes. Also, your sentence about playing games with a friend shows you value learning and friendship together. To make your writing even clearer and more correct, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote “possession” but the correct spelling is “possession.” Remember to double the ‘s’ in the middle: poss-ess-ion.
- Capitalization: You wrote “play In my free time” with a capital ‘I’ in the middle of a sentence. The word ‘in’ should be lowercase here because it is not the start of a new sentence. Write it as: “play in my free time.”
- Comma splice: You wrote “I love to play computer games with my friend, I am always learning” which is two complete thoughts joined by only a comma. Add a connecting word like ‘and’ after the comma: “I love to play computer games with my friend, and I am always learning.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

“My most prized possession” Hello, my name is Dee. My most prized possession is a computer because I am always using it to learn and play in my free time. I love to play computer games with my friend, and I am always learning to improve my skill.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

“My most prized possession” Hello, my name is Dee. My most prized possession is a computer because I am always using it to learn and play In my free time. I love to play computer games with my friend, I am always learning to improve my skill.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

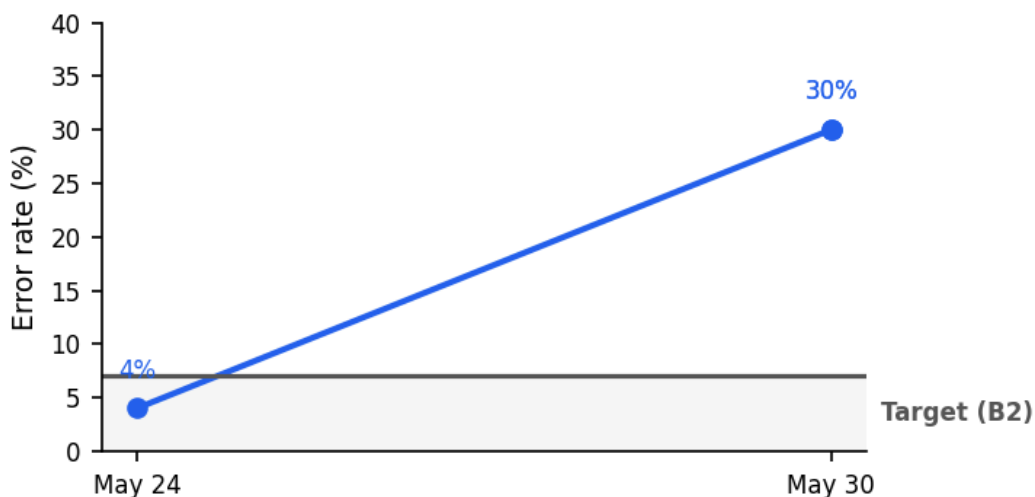

Yaya (Nadi) - 29584 - M3-5A

Dear Yaya (Nadi),

You wrote a clear description of your piano, and I can feel how much you love it. Your comparison to a grand piano is a strong way to explain its quality. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote “possession” but the correct spelling is “possession.” Remember to double the ‘s’ in the middle: poss-ess-ion.
- Sentence fragment: You wrote “Which it gives a magnificent sound.” with a full stop, but this group of words is not a complete sentence because it has no main verb. You cannot put a full stop here. Instead, connect it to your previous sentence. For example: “This piano was made in Japan, it was made from a real wood, which gives a magnificent sound.”
- Verb form: You wrote “it worths” but the verb ‘worth’ is not used with ‘-s’. The correct form is “it is worth.” For example: “I own an upright piano, it is worth around 320,000 baht.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my piano. I own an upright piano; it is worth around 320,000 baht. This model is called Yux, and it is one of the best upright piano models.

This piano was made in Japan, and it was made from real wood, which gives it a magnificent sound. This model can be compared to a grand piano; no wonder it is expensive.

I am really passionate about playing the piano. I have played many expensive grand and upright pianos. The first time I tried this model, I immediately realized that this upright piano gave me the touch, feeling, and quality

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possesion is my piano. I own an upright piano, it worths around 320,000 baht. This model is called Yux, it's one of the best upright piano model.

This piano was made in Japan, it was made from a real wood. Which it gives a magnificent sound. This model can be compared to a grand piano, no wonder why it's expensive.

I'm really passionate in playing piano. I've played many expensive grand and upright piano. The first time I tried this model, I immediately realized that this upright piano gave me a grand piano touching, feeling, and quality.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

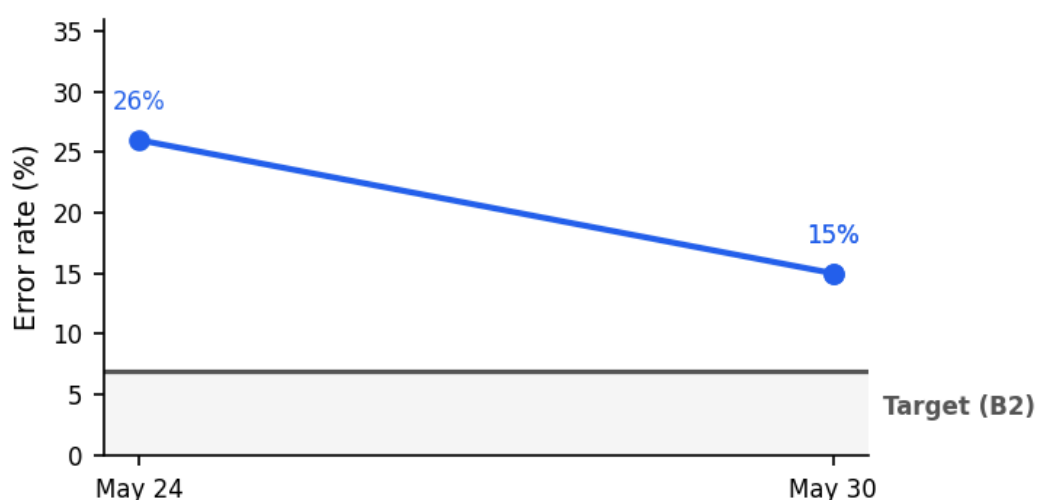

Punch - 29615 - M3-5A

Dear Punch,

I like how you chose a meaningful memory as your most prized possession – a trophy from your first singing competition. That shows your passion for music, and you clearly explained why it's so special to you. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Word order: You wrote "I very love it" but in English, adverbs like 'very' cannot go before the verb 'love'. You should write 'I love it very much' – put 'very much' after the object.
- Spelling: You wrote "agents" but the correct spelling is "against." Remember: a-g-a-i-n-s-t, not a-g-e-n-t-s.
- Verb tense: You wrote "I have to sing" but this story happened in the past. Change 'have' to 'had' to keep the past tense consistent: "I had to sing."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is a trophy I won at my first singing competition. I love it very much because that competition was my first time participating in a singing competition outside of school, and I was so proud of myself.

That day, I was very excited and a little bit nervous because I had to sing against my very talented friends.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is a trophy I won at my first singing competition. I very love it because that competition was my first time that I have a singing competition outside the school, and I was so proud of myself.

That day, I was very excited and a little bit nervous because I have to sing agents my very talented friends.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

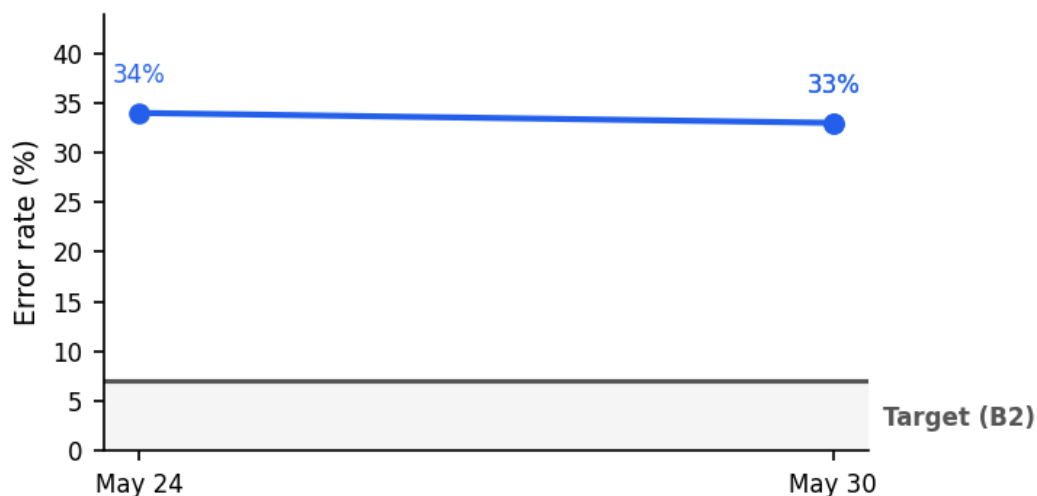

PingPing - 29710 - M3-5A

Dear PingPing,

You chose a great topic – your smartphone – and gave a clear example of how it helps you after school. I like that you connected your phone to feeling better after homework. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Word form: You wrote “I use to chat and surviving internet.” but after ‘to’ we need the base form of the verb. Write: ‘to surf’ instead of ‘surviving.’ Also, you need the word ‘the’ before ‘internet.’ A correct sentence is: “I use it to chat and to surf the internet.”
- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote “Phone can makes me relax” but after ‘can’ we always use the base form of the verb, without ‘s.’ So write ‘make’ not ‘makes.’ Correct: “My phone can make me relax.”
- Verb tense: You wrote “Last week is the first week” but ‘last week’ is in the past, so the verb must be past tense. Write ‘was’ instead of ‘is.’ Also, ‘I have a lot of homework’ should be ‘I had a lot of homework.’ You are talking about last week, so everything should be past tense.

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my smartphone, because I use it to chat and to surf the internet. I always use my smartphone to listen to music. My phone can make me relax after school.

For example, last week was the first week of the new term at school. I had a lot of homework. I used my phone to turn on the music, so it made me feel better. I also used it to search.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my smart phone. because I use to chat and surviving internet. I always use smart phone to listen to music. Phone can makes me relax after school.

For example, Last week is the first week for new turn at school. I have a lot of homework. I use phone to turn on the music so it makes me fell better. I also use to search

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

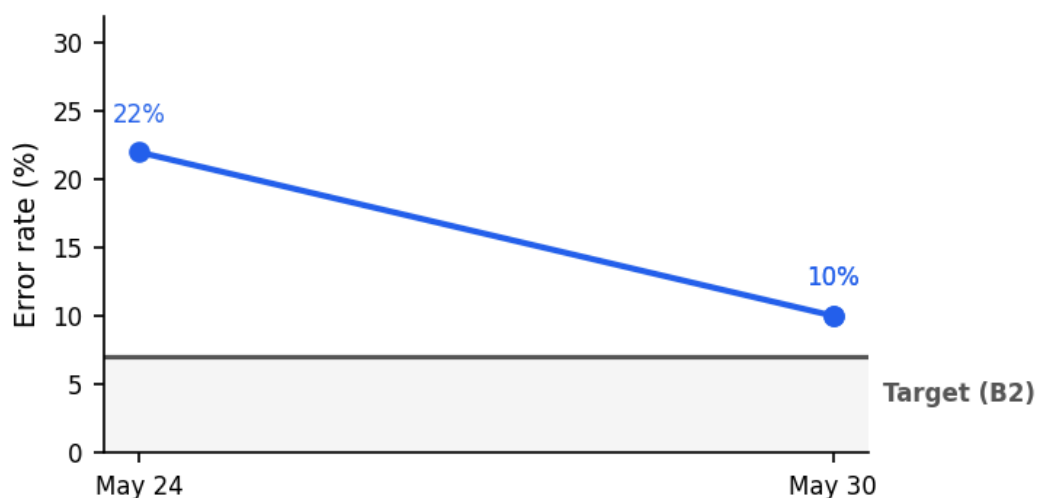

Mark - 29727 - M3-5A

Dear Mark,

Mark, you've written a clear and personal description about your laptop. I like how you explained that you use it for both work and play – that shows how important it is to you. To make your writing even stronger, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Comma splice: You wrote "My most prized possession is a laptop, I really love it" which is two complete thoughts joined by only a comma. Add a connecting word like 'and' after the comma or use a full stop: "My most prized possession is a laptop, and I really love it" or "My most prized possession is a laptop. I really love it."
- Sentence fragment: You wrote "all my work. are complete." but the full stop creates a fragment. Words like "all my work" cannot stand alone as a sentence. Instead, connect it: "when I'm bored and all my work is complete, I can decide..."
- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote "all my work are complete" but 'work' is singular (uncountable), so it needs 'is', not 'are'. The correct form is: "all my work is complete."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

Hello! I'm Mark. My most prized possession is a laptop. I really love it because I use it for everything. For example, I often do my work on my laptop, or when I'm bored and all my work is complete, I can decide to play video games as my freedom.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

Hello! I'm Mark. My most prized possession is a laptop, I really love it because I use it for everything. For example, I often do my work on my laptop or when I'm bored and all my work. are complete. I can decide to play video games as my freedom.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

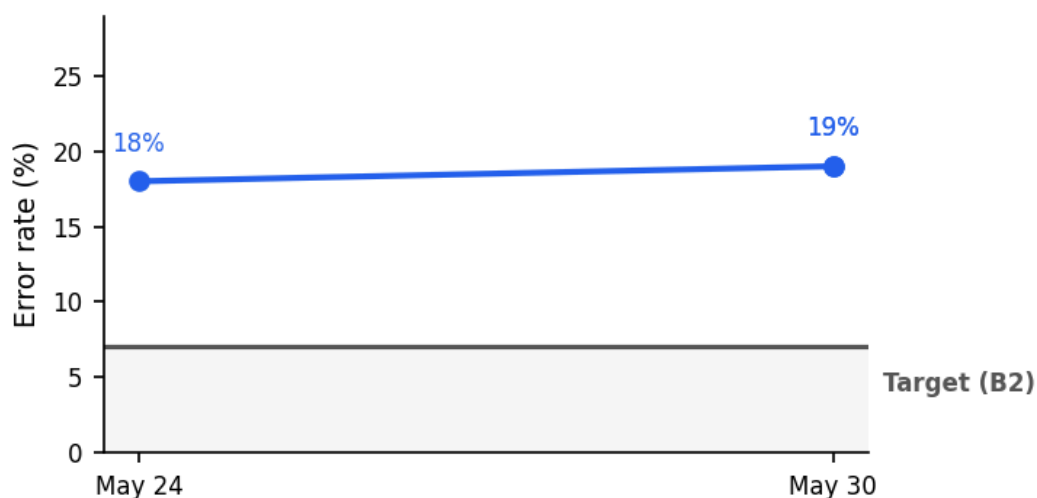

Pheem - 29745 - M3-5A

Dear Pheem,

I really like how you explained the emotional value of your blankets – the way you connected them to your family and your sleep routine is very clear and touching. Your use of semicolons to join related ideas shows you are trying to use more advanced punctuation. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Word form: You wrote “possession things” but the correct word is “possessions.” In English, we don’t need the word ‘things’ after ‘possession’ because ‘possession’ already means ‘thing that you own.’ So you should say: “my most prized possessions” – just add an ‘s’ to make it plural.
- Grammar (verb tense): You wrote “I’ve got three small blankets” but this sounds like you just got them now. You want to say that you have had them for a long time. The correct form is “I have had three small blankets” – this is called the present perfect tense, and it shows an action that started in the past and continues to now.
- Countable/uncountable noun: You wrote “precious stuffs” but ‘stuff’ is an uncountable noun – it does not have a plural form with an ‘s.’ You should say “precious things” or just “precious stuff.” A simple fix: remove the ‘s’ and say “my most precious stuff” or change it to “my most precious things.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is three small blankets. Since I can remember, I have had three small blankets; each of them has a different pattern. The reason why they are my most prized possessions is that they have been with me since I was born, and each of them helps me fall asleep easier whenever I hug it. They are also my most precious things, since they have been with my family for more than ten years. They have been in my house since before I was born.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is 3 small blankets. Since I can remember, I've got three small blankets; each of them has a different pattern. The reason why they are my most possession things is that they have been with me since I was born, and each of them helps me fall asleep easier whenever I hug it. And they are also my most precious stuffs since they've been with my family for more than 10 years! They've been existing in my house before I was born.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

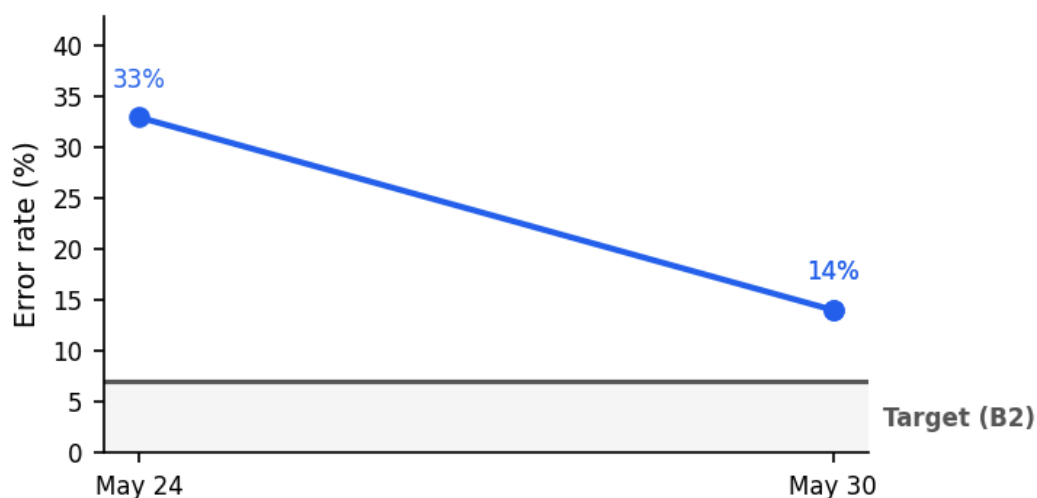

Pipe - 29749 - M3-5A

Dear Pipe,

I really like how you described your mountain bike as your 'most prized possession.' That shows you care about it a lot. Your sentence about riding it 'anywhere, anytime' gives a clear picture of your freedom on the bike. To make your writing even stronger, let's look at three small errors you can fix.

- Capitalization: You wrote 'Could' with a capital letter in the middle of a sentence: 'Because I Could ride it anywhere.' In English, we only use capital letters at the beginning of a sentence or for names. Here, you should write 'could' with a small letter.
- Capitalization: You wrote 'Short distances' with a capital 'S,' but 'short' is not a proper noun or the start of a sentence. Change it to a small letter: 'short distances.'
- Capitalization: You wrote 'When' with a capital letter after 'So': 'So When I need to travel.' The word 'When' should start with a small letter because it is not the beginning of a new sentence. Write 'So when I need to travel.'

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my mountain bike because I could ride it anywhere, anytime, even when I don't have anything to do. So when I need to travel short distances from my house, I would pedal my bike to that exact location.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my mountain bike. Because I Could ride it anywhere, anytime even when I don't have anything to do. So When I need to travel Short distances from my house, I would pedal my bike to that exact location.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

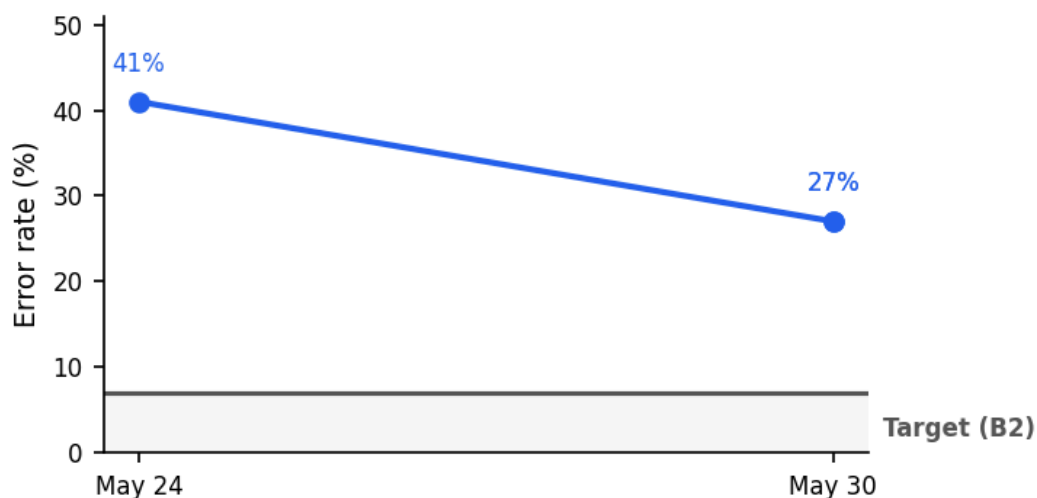

Posh - 29769 - M3-5A

Dear Posh,

You have a clear main idea about your bike, and you gave two good reasons why it is special to you. Your message is easy to understand. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Capitalization: You wrote “Bike” with a capital B, but it is a common noun, so it should be lowercase: “bike.” Only use a capital letter at the start of a sentence or for proper names (like a person’s name).
- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote “The reasons I likes this Bike” but ‘reasons’ is plural, so the verb should be “like” (without ‘s’). The correct form is: “The reason I like this bike” or “The reasons I like this bike.”
- Sentence fragment: You wrote “For another reason, The Bike is very fast with good brake for my own safety” but ‘For another reason’ is not a complete sentence – it is a fragment. You can connect it to the next part without a comma: “For another reason, the bike is very fast with good brakes for my own safety.” (Also, ‘brake’ should be plural: ‘brakes’.)

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is a bike. The reason I like this bike so much is because it works well and has never had any problems after many years. For another reason, the bike is very fast with good brakes for my own safety.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is a Bike .The reasons I likes this Bike so much is because it works well and never have any problem after many years.For another reason,The Bike is very fast with good brake for my own safety

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

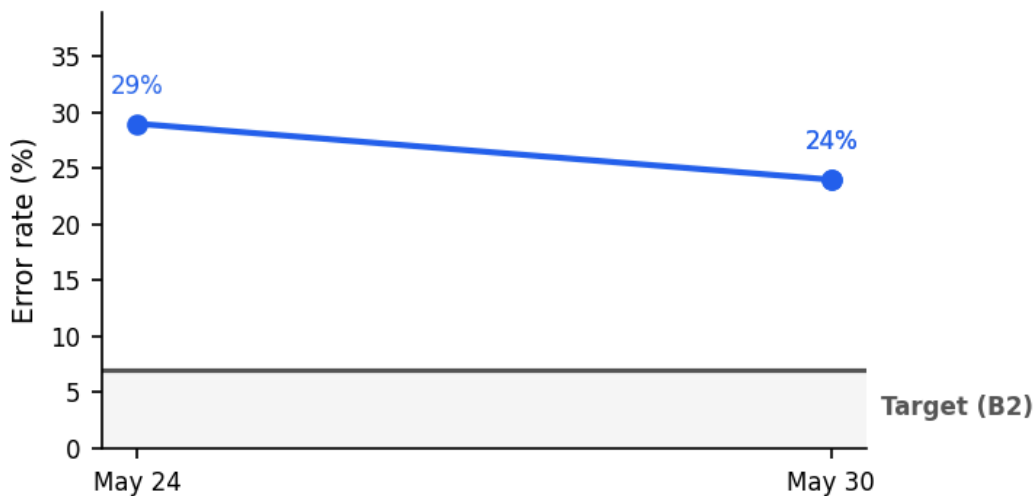

Charles - 29793 - M3-5A

Dear Charles,

Charles, I really like how you explained the strong connection between your computer and your hard work. The detail about skipping meals to save money shows how much it means to you. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote “possession” but the correct spelling is “possession.” Remember to double the ‘s’ in the middle: poss-ess-ion.
- Run-on sentence: You wrote “Sometimes I dont eat just to save up for the computer, And the day I saved up enough money to buy the computer, I was very happy and excited to play the computer.” This is too long and joins two different ideas. You can split it into two sentences: “Sometimes I didn’t eat just to save up for the computer. The day I saved up enough money to buy the computer, I was very happy and excited to play on the computer.”
- Spelling: You wrote “everday” but the correct spelling is “every day.” It is two words, and the ‘y’ stays: ev-er-y day.

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

The most prized possession I own is my computer. The reason it is my most prized possession is because I bought it with my own money. I saved up for six months of my allowance; sometimes I did not eat just to save up for the computer. The day I saved up enough money to buy the computer, I was very happy and excited to play on the computer. To this day, I still play on it every day.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

The most prized possesion I own is my Computer. The reason it's my most prized possession is because I bought it with my own money. I saved up worth 6 months of my allowance, Sometimes I dont eat just to save up for the computer, And the day I saved up enough money to buy the computer, I was very happy and excited to play the computer. To this day I still play it everday.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

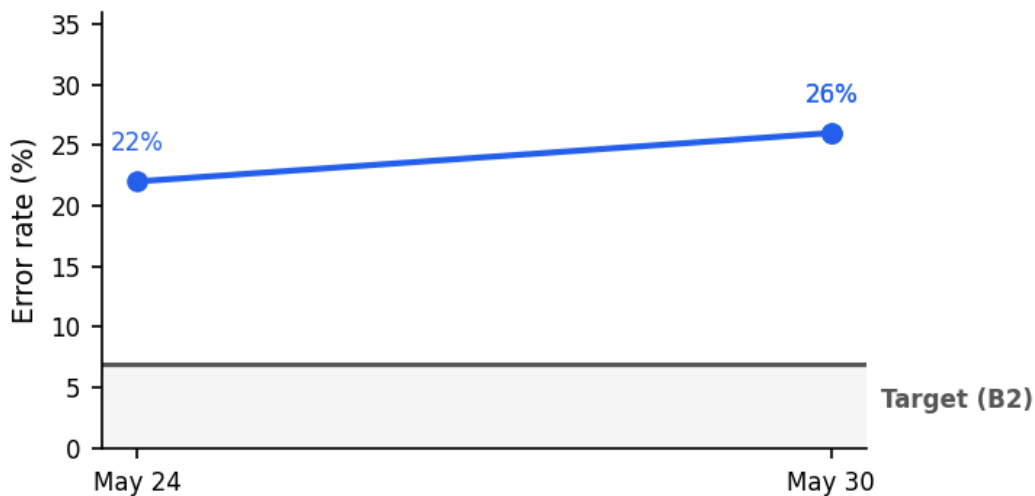

Yaya (Kanchisar) - 29798 - M3-5A

Dear Yaya (Kanchisar),

Yaya, I really like your idea about keeping a diary to release emotions and keep memories. Your sentence "I have my secret and experience that I don't want to share with others" shows that you understand how personal a diary can be. Good job! To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote "dairy" but the correct spelling is "diary." A "dairy" is a place where milk is kept, while a "diary" is a book for writing your personal thoughts. Remember: 'i' before 'a' in 'diary' – think of 'I' for 'I write.'
- Word form: You wrote "I feel irritate" but the correct form is "I feel irritated." After 'feel,' you need an adjective, not a verb. So instead of 'irritate' (verb), use 'irritated' (adjective).
- Run-on sentence: You wrote "For example when I feel irritated or sad, I will write on my dairy notebook, It helps me a lot." This is two complete thoughts joined by only a comma. You can fix it by putting a full stop after 'notebook': "I will write on my dairy notebook. It helps me a lot." Or add a connecting word like 'and': "I will write on my dairy notebook, and it helps me a lot."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my diary notebook, because I have secrets and experiences that I don't want to share with others. For example, when I feel irritated or sad, I will write in my diary notebook. It helps me a lot. So I have a diary session almost every day. For another example, when my mom forces me to do something I don't want to do, like sleep early, I will write in my diary notebook. In conclusion, I think most people have a diary for their daily life to keep their memories or release their emotions.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my dairy notebook, because I have my secret and experience that I don't want to share with others. For example when I feel irritate or sad, I will write on my dairy notebook, It helps me a lot. So I have a dairy session almost everyday. For example 2, when my mom forced me to do something I don't want like sleep early, and I will write on my dairynotebook, For conclude I think most of people have dairy for their daily life to keep their memomies or release their emotions.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

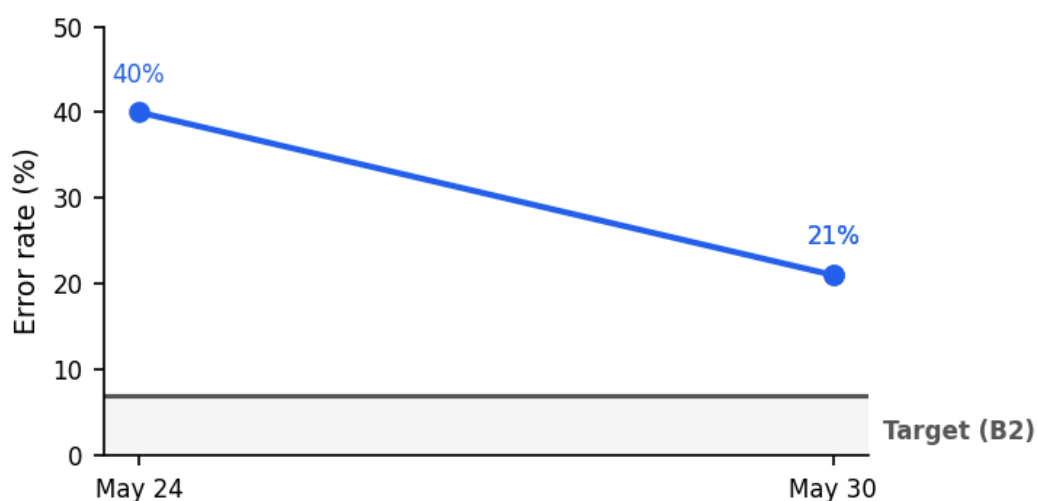

Tata - 30221 - M3-5A

Dear Tata,

You have a strong, personal connection to your football boots, and I love how you honestly describe the challenge with trusting your teammates. Your sentence 'I'm so talented in this sport' shows great self-belief. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote "trophics" but the correct spelling is "trophies." Remember, when a word ends in 'y' and there is a consonant before it, change the 'y' to 'i' and add 'es': trophy → trophies.
- Word form: You wrote "confident" but you need a noun here, not an adjective. The correct word is "confidence." For example: "I don't have confidence" (noun) not "I don't have confident."
- Verb form: You wrote "I want to won" but after 'to' you must use the base form of the verb. The correct form is "I want to win." Think of 'to' + the simple verb: to win, to play, to collect.

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my football boots! They are very important, because if I don't have them, I won't be able to collect all the trophies in my life. I am so talented in this sport, but there is some flaw or mistake about myself. I don't really trust my teammates, and I don't have so much confidence when I play in a very big competition. For example, last year I played for my ACT football community and I won, but I don't think my team needs me, so if I want to win my confidence...

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my football boots! It's very important, because if I don't have one I won't be able to collect all the trophics in my life. I'm so talented in this sport, but there's some fragment or mistake about my self, that's I don't really trust my teammates and I don't have so much confident when I play for a very big competition. For example, last year I've been playing for my ACT football community and I won, but I don't think my team needs me, so if I want to won my confident

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

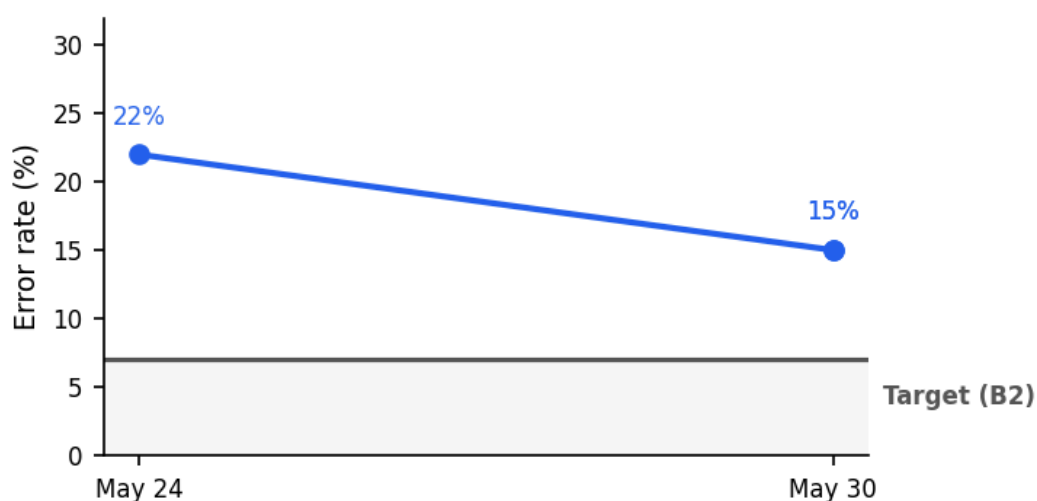

Praewa - 30942 - M3-5A

Dear Praewa,

You chose a wonderful possession – your cat! I can feel how much you love it. You also did a great job explaining why it is so special to you. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Verb tense: You wrote “I have adapted it since July” but the correct verb is ‘have had’ because ‘adapt’ means to change yourself, not to own something. To talk about owning something from the past until now, use ‘have had.’ For example: “I have had my cat since July.”
- Missing article: You wrote “I bought it from cat farn” but you need the word ‘a’ before ‘cat farm’ because it is a general place. Also, you spelled ‘farn’ but the correct spelling is ‘farm.’ So fix it to: “I bought it from a cat farm.”
- Article choice: You wrote “it is a instinct of kitten” but the correct article before a vowel sound is ‘an,’ not ‘a.’ Also, ‘kitten’ needs the article ‘a’ before it. So write: “it is an instinct of a kitten.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my cat. I have had it since July. I bought it from a cat farm. I love my cat so much, because I am always with it when I feel lonely, sad, or even happy. Sometimes it bites me, but I know that it is an instinct of a kitten.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my cat. I have adapted it since July. I bought it from cat farn. I love my cat so much, because I always be with it when I feel lonely, sad or even happy. Sometimes it bites me, but I know that it is a instinct of kitten.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

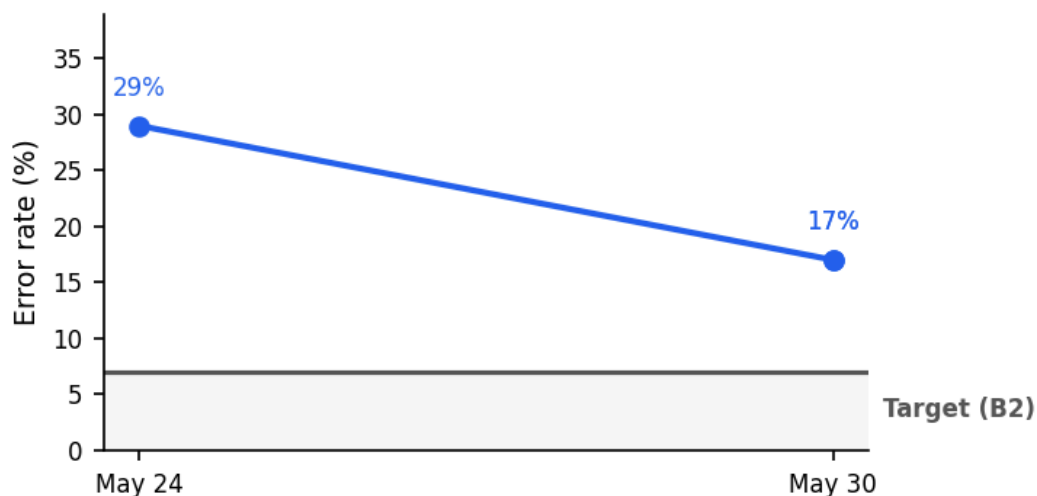

Singto - 34034 - M3-5A

Dear Singto,

I really like how you connected your new PC to your hard work and called it 'my own certificate.' That's a very personal and meaningful way to describe your possession. You also did a great job showing the difference between 144 Hz and 60 Hz to explain why the upgrade feels so big. To make your writing even clearer, let's look at a few small errors you can fix.

- Spelling: You wrote "moniter" but the correct spelling is "monitor." Remember: it's mon-i-tor, not mon-i-ter. This is a common mistake, so just practice writing it a few times.
- Capitalization: You wrote "the new PC moniter that i got" but the word 'I' should always be a capital letter. So write 'I' not 'i'. This is easy to fix once you remember.
- Sentence fragment: You wrote "Because I got it from my father as a gift for my good grades." with a full stop, but this is not a complete sentence. It has no main subject and verb that can stand alone. You cannot put a full stop here. Instead, connect it to the sentence before: 'My most prized possession is my new PC because I got it from my father as a gift for my good grades.'

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my new PC because I got it from my father as a gift for my good grades. The new PC monitor that I got has 144 Hz, which, compared to my old one that is 60 Hz, feels like a big upgrade. The new PC wins in every way. The new one gets 300 fps! This PC is not just a gaming device to me; it is my own certificate, a reminder of what hard work can give you.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my new PC. Because I got it from my father as a gift for my good grades. The new PC moniter that i got has 144 hz. Which compare to my old one which is 60 hz feel like a big upgrade. The new PC wins in every way. The new one is 300 fps! This PC is not just a gaming devices to me, it is my own certificate, a reminder of what hard work can gives you.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

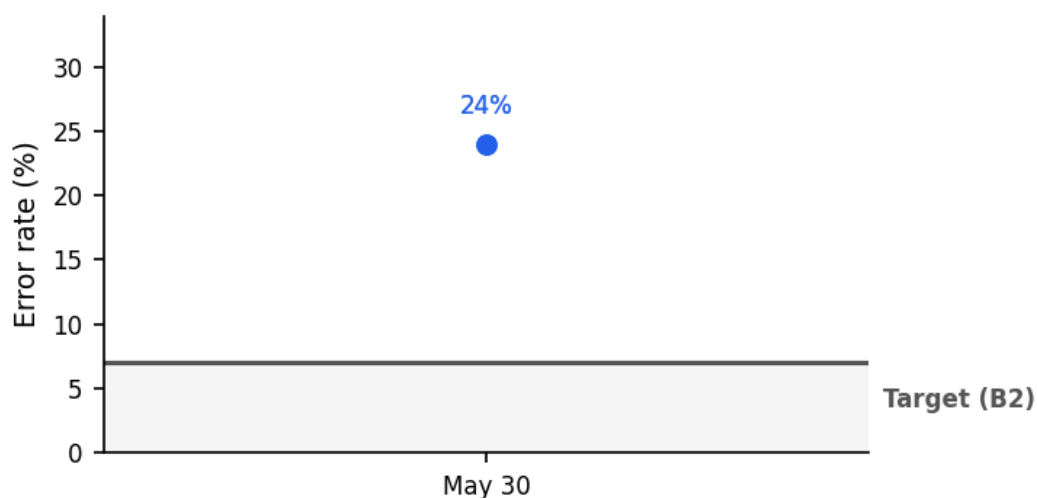

Tanya - 34091 - M3-5A

Dear Tanya,

You wrote a very touching paragraph about your childhood blanket. I can really feel how much it means to you, especially when you describe it being cold and comfy to sleep with. It's wonderful that you shared such a personal memory. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote "possession" but the correct spelling is "possession." Remember to double the 's' in the middle: poss-ess-ion.
- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote "the most expensive things" but you are talking about one blanket, so you need the singular form. Change "things" to "thing" and make sure the verb matches: "It might not be the most expensive thing that I own."
- Run-on sentence: You wrote "I got this blanket since I was born it always been with me" which is two complete thoughts without a connecting word or punctuation. Add a period or a connecting word like 'and' or ';' to separate them. For example: "I got this blanket since I was born; it always been with me." Also, change "it always been" to "it has always been."

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my childhood blanket. It might not be the most expensive thing that I own, but it means the most to me. I have had this blanket since I was born; it has always been with me since day one through the ups and downs of my life. My favorite part of this blanket is that when I leave it in a cold room, the whole thing is cold as well, which makes it super comfy to sleep with.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prize possesion is my chlidhood blanket, It might not be the most expensive things that I own but it means the most to me. I got this blanket since I was born it always been with me since day one thought up and down of my life. My most favorite part of this blanket is when I left it in a cold room the whole thing is cold as well which make it super comfy to sleep with.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

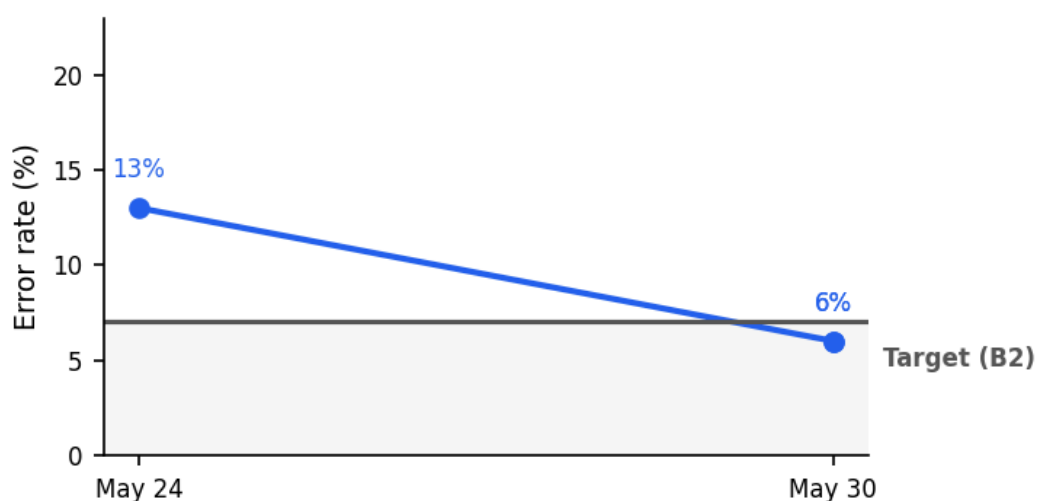

Eri - 34927 - M3-5A

Dear Eri,

You wrote a really clear paragraph about something important to you. I especially like how you explained why the medal is special – it shows the hard work you put in. The quote from your mom is a nice personal touch. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote “amout” but the correct spelling is “amount.” Remember: a-m-o-u-n-t. Think of ‘a’ + ‘mount’ – like a mountain of time.
- Subject-verb agreement: You wrote “My mom always say” but your subject ‘mom’ is singular, so the verb needs an ‘s’: “My mom always says.” In the present tense, he/she/it takes an ‘s’ at the end of the verb.
- Punctuation: You wrote “Two months before the competition I always read” but when a time phrase comes at the start of a sentence, put a comma after it. Write: “Two months before the competition, I always read.” The comma helps the reader pause before the main idea.

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my diamond Te-set medal that I won last year. I am so proud because the test was hard and I had to do a hundred items in a limited amount of time. Two months before the competition, I always read and practice a lot. I usually practice by doing old tests from the year before. My mom always says that "Practice makes perfect."

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my diamond Te-set medal that I won last year. I am so proud because the test was hard and I had to do a hundred items in a limited amout of time. Two months before the competition I always read and practice a lot. I usually practice by doing old tests from the year before. My mom always say that "Practice makes perfect".

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

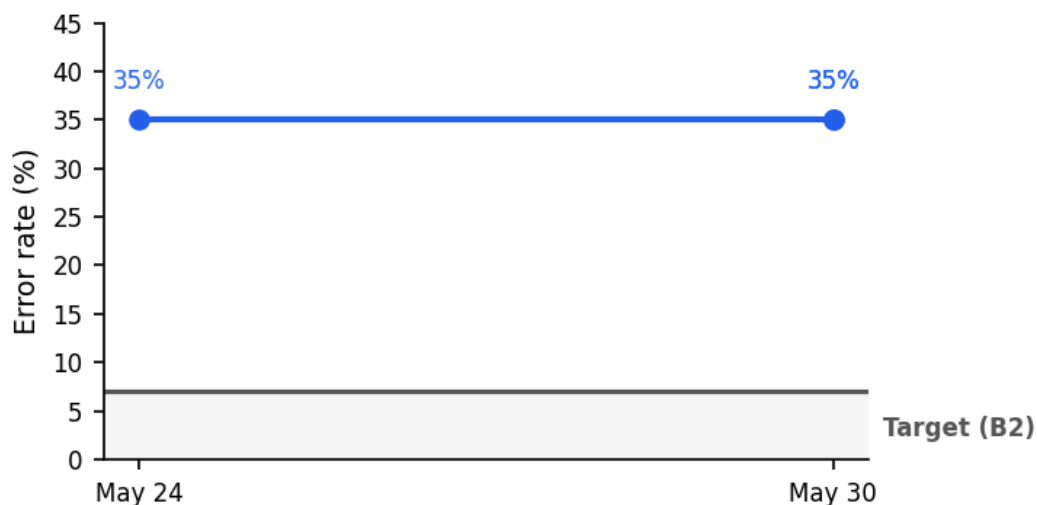

Grace - 34933 - M3-5A

Dear Grace,

You wrote about something very personal—your artwork—and it's clear you are proud of it. I especially like your comparison to making your first colorful dinner that doesn't burn. That's a creative way to explain your feeling! To make your writing even stronger, try to pay attention to these three common errors.

- Run-on sentence: You wrote "My most prized possession is my art work. because I use my life time to make it by myself it awesome work I do it like for a weeks." This is actually one long sentence with no correct punctuation. You need to separate ideas with periods. For example: "My most prized possession is my artwork, because I use my lifetime to make it by myself. It is awesome work. I do it for weeks."
- Missing verb (subject-verb agreement): You wrote "it awesome work" but this is missing the verb 'is'. A complete sentence needs a verb. You should write: "It is awesome work." Or, if you mean the verb 'am': "I am proud." Always check that your sentences have a main verb like 'is', 'am', 'are', or 'have'.
- Preposition error: You wrote "for a weeks" but 'weeks' is plural, so we do not use 'a' before it. We use 'a' only for one thing (a week). For more than one, say "for weeks" (no 'a') or "for a week" (if it is one week). In your sentence, "I do it for weeks" is correct.

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my artwork, because I use my lifetime to make it by myself. It is awesome work; I do it for weeks. I waste my time on bullshit paper, but at last I am so proud and happy when I see how it becomes the best artwork. It comes from my two hot own hands, like you can make your first colorful dinner to eat and it is not burnt! When I die, I am going to tell my family to keep my artworks in a safe place, as if it were like gold.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my art work. because I use my life time to make it by myself it awesome work I do it like for a weeks. I waste my time to do the bullshit paper but I last I so proud and happy when I see how it become a best art work it come from my to hot own hands, like you can make your first color dinner to eat and it not burn! When I Died, I'm gonna tell my family that keep my artworks in the safe place as it like a gold.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

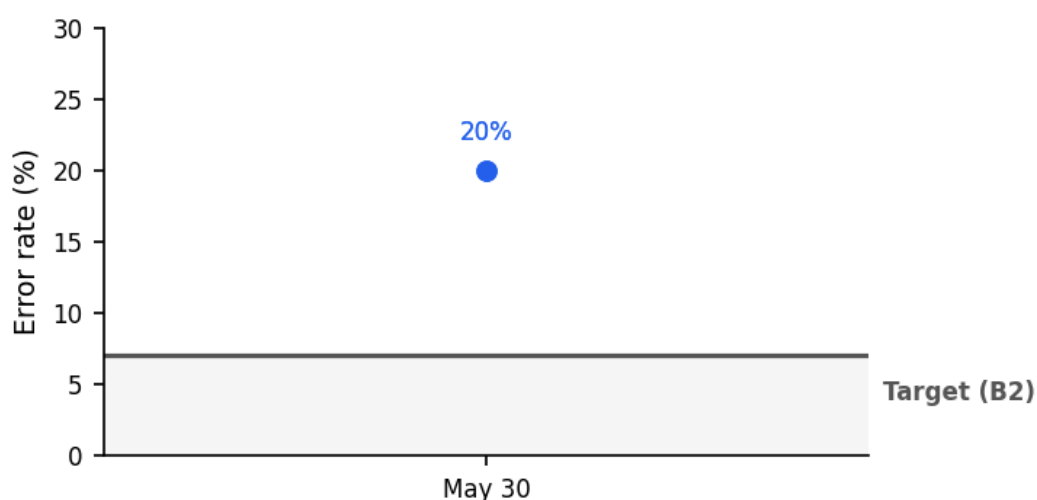

Natee - 34937 - M3-5A

Dear Natee,

You chose a great topic – your home – and you gave a clear reason why it's important to you. Your opening is friendly and inviting. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Spelling: You wrote “possession” but the correct spelling is “possession.” Remember to double the ‘s’ in the middle: poss-ess-ion.
- Capitalization: You wrote “possession” as a title without capital letters. In English, titles of paragraphs or sections should start with a capital letter: “My Most Prized Possession.”
- Verb tense: You wrote “I just usually stayed at home” but this should be in simple present tense because it is a general habit. Use “stay” instead of “stayed.” For example: “I usually just stay at home.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My Most Prized

Possession

Hello, my name is Nateep, and today is Tuesday, the 26th of May, 2026. Today I will write about my most prized possession, so please enjoy my writing. My most prized possession is my home because when it is a weekend or holiday, I usually just stay at home.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possesion

Hello, my name is Nateep and today is Tuesday, the 26th of May, 2026. Today I will write about my most prized possession so please enjoy my writing. My most prized possession is my home because when it's weekend or holiday I just usually stayed at home.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

Writing Accuracy Feedback Report

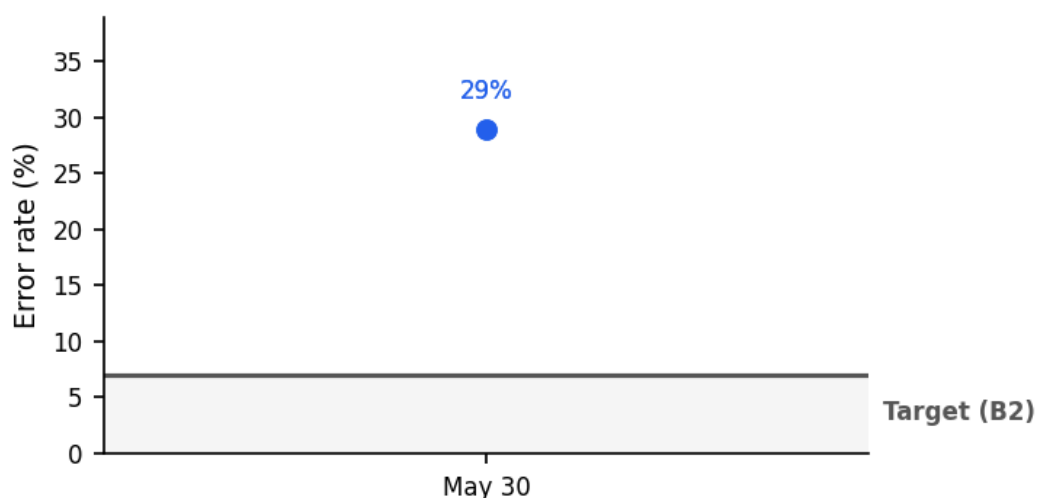

Nadia - 37120 - M3-5A

Dear Nadia,

You wrote about something that truly matters to you, and your feeling comes through clearly. I can see you tried to explain why the iPad is so special to you. To improve even further, try to be aware of the following errors.

- Verb tense: You wrote “my dad buy it for me” but this happened in the past, so you need the past tense. Change ‘buy’ to ‘bought’ in this sentence. For example: “my dad bought it for me.”
- Word order: You wrote “I very love it” but in English, ‘very’ cannot go before the verb ‘love.’ You should say “I love it very much” or “I really love it.”
- Capitalization: You wrote “my ipad” but ‘iPad’ is the name of a product, so it should start with a capital letter: “my iPad.”

The solid line in the chart below shows the B2 target error rate (7%). Your goal is to keep your error rate below this line. The chart tracks your progress over time.

Your Writing with Corrections

I scanned your writing for errors and underlined the corrections below. Carefully comparing the corrected and original versions will help you become more aware of common mistakes and improve your writing skills.

My most prized possession is my iPad because my dad bought it for me and it's very expensive. I use it to play games with my friends and my dad. My dad bought this iPad for me because my old one was not very good, so he bought a new one for me, and I love it very much. very much. It's very useful for me.

Your Original Writing (Uncorrected)

Below is your original writing exactly as you submitted it, before any corrections were applied. Compare it with the corrected version above.

My most prized possession is my ipad because, my dad buy it for me and it's very expensive. I used to play games with my friends and my dad. My dad buy this ipad for me because my old one is not very good so, he buy new a one for me and I very love it. It's very useful for me.

May 30, 2026

Sincerely,

Teacher Ed

